

DARKENED WINDOWS

By Cornelia Kane Rathbone, Is a Great Mystery Story. It Will Appear As a Serial In The Glendale Evening News, Starting Next Tuesday, February 17

SYNOPSIS OF THE STORY

John Graham, young, wealthy, a junior member of one of New York's oldest law firms, found himself one evening in an unfamiliar part of the city, with just $1.25 in his pocket.

So he dined at a small French restaurant, where, by mistake, he received the wrong coat check and the overcoat of a stranger. In the pocket of this coat was a slip of paper bearing the address of a handsome residence in the same fashionable section of the city in which Graham himself lived. The note, in a woman's handwriting, was signed "E. H." and read—"Tonight must end it."

As Graham had left in the pocket of his own coat a valuable emerald bracelet, he hastened to the address on the note in the hope of finding both the stranger and his own overcoat.

But he found instead a deserted house and "Darkened Windows." Inside a dog yelped piteously. Making his way upstairs, he released the dog, which led him to the dimly lighted library. There, at the desk, sat the figure of a man—murdered.

"From this opening," says the New York Times in an enthusiastic review, "the story moves swiftly, with many devious twists and windings, leading Graham into some peculiar places and inducing him to do certain things—such as playing burglar—which are not always regarded as strictly within the province of an entirely correct young lawyer. It is an entertaining tale, with plenty of suspense and more than one surprise, concocted with no small degree of skill."

Who was guilty of the murder and why was there murder? This riddle is solved by Detective Flint, a bespectacled, insignificant little man, who, after making more than one mistake, brings the guilty one to light.

So cleverly do the motives and clues dovetail that the murderer, although present all through the story, is not suspected until the last suspense-laden chapter.

Says the Toledo News-Bee, in warning its readers: "Don't suspect everybody in the story. On the contrary, believe in everybody until you are sure you shouldn't."

GIFT DEED TO BRAND PARK ACCEPTED BY CITY

Councilmen Meet In Special Session This Morning To Honor Donor

The Glendale City Council at a special meeting this morning adopted a resolution accepting the gift by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand of an 800-acre tract of land in the Verdugo foothills, adjoining their "Miradero" estate, as a municipal park. The meeting was called by Mayor Spencer Robinson and was joined in by the other members of the council. It was held in the council chambers at the City Hall. Councilman S. S. Gilhuly and C. E. Kimlin were absent.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the members of the Glendale Park board met at the City Hall and after a brief meeting presided over by Chairman L. H. Wilson, drove to the park site and went over the tract. It was decided to take immediate steps to develop and beautify the immense site, taking full advantage of the one main canyon and four branch canyons, the heavily wooded sections and the live streams that gurgled down through this beautiful tract of land, which will be known for all time to come as Brand park, in honor of the donors.

To Provide Entrance As soon as the tract can be surveyed and entrances decided upon, Mr. and Mrs. Brand will give additional land to provide easy access by the public to Brand park, stated City Manager Virgil B. Stone this morning, before the council and assembled audience in the council chambers.

Deed to the tract was signed last night by the donors, their names appearing on the document as L. C. Brand and Mrs. Mary Louise Brand. It was presented to the council this morning by Albert R. Killgore, secretary and trust officer of the Title Guarantee Co., of Los Angeles, of which Mr. Brand is president.

Tribute to Donor In presenting the deed to the City Council, on behalf of the donors, Mr. Killgore pictured the vision that had led L. C. Brand to see a future Glendale worthy of such a gift as has now been made and accepted. He told how Mr. Brand had gone with his vision to Henry Huntington of Pasadena and had obtained the backing of that magnate to bring the Pacific Electric line into the city. He pictured that Thanksgiving day in 1905, when a community cele-

By COPELAND C. BURG For International News Service, HUNTINGTON LAKE, CAL., Feb. 14.—One of the strangest races on record swept into the home stretch today.

Battling with thumping air drills in granite caverns, the two crews of 500 men each blasting the world's greatest tunnel for the Southern California Edison Co., were separated by 125 feet in mud-filled working posts, with ice cold water dripping on them. The "bed rock" toilers fell to for the final drive, which was expected to set a new world's record for granite drilling.

The tunnel, half a mile under the high Sierras and 7,000 feet above the sea, when completed will form the key unit for the company's power project, tapping the waters of the San Joaquin river at a total cost of $375,000,000.

Excitement in the progress of the two crews constantly grew more intense today in the camp of 2,000 men who have waged months of earnings as to whether the north or the south crew will make the final "spot."

Radio and telephone were employed as the granite walls crumbled to flash the word that the southward working crew led in the contest by three feet.

ANNOUNCE LIST OF POLLING PLACES FOR SCHOOL BOND VOTE

Two Ballots Will Be Given To Voters And Both Must Be Used To Count On Total Issue of $2,400,000

The polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 8 o'clock at night at the special school bond election of Tuesday, February 17, it is announced by W. E. Hewitt, chairman of the School Bond Publicity committee. There are seven precincts for the elementary school district and these seven, together with three additional precincts, for the high school district.

These precincts are not the same as the ordinary voting precincts. Mr. Hewitt states, but have been outlined especially for this election. The Glendale city Board of Education is asking $1,200,000 for elementary and intermediate school expansion and the Glendale Union High School Board of Trustees are asking $1,200,000 for high school expansion—a total of $2,400,000 in school bonds which the registered voters of the districts concerned will be asked to sanction.

In order to avoid confusion, the city school ballot is printed on blue paper, while the high school ballot is printed on white paper. The city school ballot reads as follows:

BONDS.....Yes
BONDS.....No

The high school ballot reads as follows:

HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS.....Yes
HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS.....No

That there may be no misunderstanding, Mr. Hewitt calls particular attention to the fact that the city school district bonds carry no designation, bearing merely the words BONDS.....Yes, and BONDS.....No.

It is also pointed out that voters desiring to vote on BOTH of the issues MUST use the TWO ballots. A vote on the city school ballot has nothing to do with the high school bond issues. And, of course, a vote on the high school ballot has nothing to do with the city school issue. Therefore, voters wishing to vote on BOTH issues MUST use BOTH ballots.

Following is the list of polling places, by precincts:

Precinct No. 1
Polling place, Glendale Intermediate school, 1017 South Glendale avenue. This precinct comprises all of the city south of Windsor road and, in addition, those living south of Maple street between Glendale avenue and Adams street. Inspector, Stillman E. Brown. Judges, city.

GOVERNOR CLAIMS TALK MISQUOTED

Press Dispatches Denied by Richardson, Who Spoke Here Monday Night

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14.—Governor Richardson, in a telephone communication to Harry Lutgens, executive secretary, today denied press dispatches quoting him as announcing, in an address at Glendale, February 10, that he will be a candidate to succeed himself as governor, and that he expects to be defeated.

"This misrepresentation of the governor's address is another evidence of the attempts of the yellow press to attack him through a campaign of lies. Governor Richardson has neither announced his candidacy for re-election nor stated that he will not be a candidate."

"Governor Richardson did say that he is not building political fences and that he will exert every effort to conduct the state government in a businesslike manner while he occupies the office of governor. He has stood and continues to stand for economy, leaving his political future to take care of itself."

The story denied by Governor Richardson was NOT carried by International News Service, which serves The Glendale Evening News. The Glendale Evening News did NOT quote the governor as saying he would or would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

REV. J. SOPER TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

Prominent Pastor Will Be
80 Years Old Sunday;
Here Since 1911

Rev. Julius Soper, of 1305 North Maryland avenue, will celebrate his 80th birthday tomorrow, Sunday, February 15, 1925. Rev. Soper has been a grocery clerk, school teacher, preacher and was among the first missionaries to be sent to Japan in 1873. He was born on February 15, 1845 at Poolesville, Montgomery county, Maryland, a small town just halfway between Washington, D. C. and Harper's Ferry, Virginia, thirty miles from each place.

Rev. Soper remembers the intense excitement occasioned by the John Brown raid at Harper's Ferry in 1859. Early in the summer of 1860 his father, A. E. Soper, was appointed collector of tolls at Chesapeake & Ohio canal, then running from Cumberland, Maryland, to Georgetown, D. C., now West Washington. Shortly after this time the rest of the family moved to Georgetown where Rev. Soper lived for eleven years.

Two years of this time, Rev. Soper spent as a grocery clerk, four years as a student at Georgetown college and five years in charge of West Street academy, a private school for boys. Rev. Soper graduated from college in 1866. Incidents of the Civil war are vividly recounted by Rev. Soper and he had the privilege of shaking hands with President Lincoln at a reception at the White House and also heard one of his inaugural addresses from the east portico of the Capitol, as well as seeing him take the oath of office.

Continues Studies
After teaching five years Rev. Soper became a student at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, New Jersey, graduating in May 15, 1873 in the same class with his brother-in-law, Dr. J. C. Davidson, of Berkeley, Cal. On May 20, 1873, Rev. Soper was married to Miss Mary Frances Davidson at Andover, New Jersey at a double wedding ceremony when Dr. J. C. Davidson and Miss Elizabeth Stout were also married by Bishop R. S. Foster of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. and Mrs. Soper and Dr. and Mrs. Davidson, left as missionaries to Japan in June, sailing from San Francisco July 16, 1873 on the Pacific Mail steamer, China, a wooden side-wheeler, and arrived in Yokohama, August 8. They were two of the first five sent as missionaries from the Methodist Episcopal church to Japan.

Rev. Soper and his wife fondly hoped to spend their earthly days in Japan but on account of the poor health of Mrs. Soper, were compelled to return to Glendale fourteen years ago. Rev. Soper was supply pastor from 1917 to 1919, serving one year at Eagle Rock and five years at the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church.

Rev. and Mrs. Soper have had

Joins Board

T. H. MENK, new director of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation.

Strength, dignity and efficiency were added to the board of directors of the Gibraltar Finance Corporation, Colorado street and Brand boulevard, in the appointment to the board of T. H. Menk, 633 East Broadway, one of the leading realtors of this city. The selection of Mr. Menk as a director of that concern was announced today.

Through the large acquaintance of Mr. Menk in Glendale and through his ability in buying, selling, exchanging and appraising real estate, he promises to be of unusual value to this concern. He knows Glendale thoroughly and through his wise and conservative business ideas will doubtless be an added assurance that every dollar invested in this corporation will be amply protected.

Mr. Menk was born in St. Paul, Minn., August 20, 1884. He attended the elementary and high schools of that city and is a university graduate with a title of Bachelor of Arts.

In 1906 he took a position with Foley Bros. & Kelly, one of the largest wholesale grocery firms of that city and remained with that concern 12 years, having charge of the accounting department.

In 1918 Mr. Menk started a commercial art and advertising business with offices in St. Paul, Duluth and Chicago. He remained in that business until 1921, when he came to Glendale. Upon arriving in Glendale, Mr. Menk embarked in the real estate business and is now an extensive property owner here.

Mr. Menk is a member of the Glendale Realty board, being on the appraisal committee of that organization. He is a member of the California Real Estate association and the National Association of Real Estate boards. He is a member of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles, the Glendale Advisory association, the First Presbyterian church of Glendale. He is a member of the executive committee of the Shrine club of Glendale, and he is also secretary of the Advertising Co. of America, which specializes in street car advertising and which has offices in Los Angeles. He is secretary of the Hotel Glendale, Inc., the company now building the large 6-story Class A hotel at the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway. Just a short time ago Mr. Menk was appointed a member of the tax appraisal committee.

MORE ARGUMENTS ON SCHOOL BONDS

Taxpayer Cites Example of Town's Growth After Education Drive

Editor The Evening News—Please permit me to recite a few reasons why I am in favor of the school bond issues. Of course, it goes without saying that we must have added school facilities, even if we should cease to grow. As every Glendale voter knows, we are in a rapidly growing city—the "fastest in the world." Shall we stunt this growth or shall we emulate it by voting for the bonds?

I want to tell you a true story about two competing towns in the state of Washington. These towns were about 10 miles apart and one commenced taking on a growth at the expense of the other, with an active chamber of commerce and everybody boosting.

The hurt town commenced to depopulate and feel a keen business depression. Something had to be done to quell this disastrous situation, and the school problem was finally decided upon as the solution.

School Plan Wins
After a hard fought campaign a substantial bond issue was put over to add to the high school. The addition was erected, the efficiency increased on the state's accredited list so that its graduates could enter the state college at Pullman or University at Seattle without further examination.

The result of this action filled the vacant houses, many new homes were built and the bank deposits more than doubled. In about 4 years more another substantial bond issue had to be floated to erect more additional school rooms.

You ask what happened to the "live" town. This town argued that it did not need additional school sites and houses and time apparently proved it was right. It didn't fill the schools it had. Well, the school town took over half its population and made almost a hopeless wreck of the place, and it was in a richer community than the school town had.

Don't let us prove in that way that our present equipment is sufficient. Depopulation will happen if ample schools and structures are not provided. The writer is an average taxpayer and would vote for the bonds from a selfish reason, saying nothing of the paramount one—the education of the man and woman of tomorrow.

Burbank Cited
As to the high school, will say that Burbank with one fifth our population and about one fourth our high school area is supporting a splendid high school. Then why can't we support two? Some say it is duplication of effort. True, it is, but you step over into Burbank and there is a high school—another duplication and in Lankershim with another duplication. Every populous isolated community should have a high school in its midst. Does any person with vision doubt that there will be 50,000 people in the near future in the territory in the northwest, north of Broadway and west of Central avenue.

As to sites no argument need be made why we should acquire them now.

The Harvard school will be needed for some years to come and when we will have ceased to need it for high school purposes it will be needed for the elementary schools.

High School Question
In justice to the business district and the best interests of the schools and our fair city, the business frontage on Colorado street should be sold and the Colorado grade school property should be sold also, when the Harvard high is available to be converted into a grade school. I want to add in closing that this is 5 miles and 400 feet from the Broadway high school to the city limits on Kenneth road and over six miles to the Lake street district.

ASKS COMMITTEE TO HELP SCHOOL BOARD

Dr. William C. Mabry Suggests Plan To Assure Residents Money Voted
Will Be Used Properly

An open letter to the school bond publicity committee: Gentlemen—It was my privilege and pleasure to serve on the Chamber of Commerce survey which developed the 1922 campaign for the new high school and extensions for the grammar school district. Six weeks of hard work convinced the entire committee that Glendale would have great difficulty for at least ten years in keeping abreast of absolute requirements in both high and graded school programs.

A painstaking, composite estimate of population and school attendance up to 1927 has already been surpassed and the committee's predictions more than verified.

I have consistently advocated larger provisions for Glendale affairs than have been approved and in this new school situation, after careful study my approval would be more hearty were the bond issues larger and the plans more comprehensive and matured.

In the first high school issue I begged for the additional amount necessary to complete the Colorado street frontage—and it still should be acquired. In the grammar school issue the ten-acre site in the northwest and improvements for Cerritos and Magnolia were added only after a hard fight. It was feared these additional would defeat the bonds, but they carried by tremendous majorities. My own Tropic section gave a 77 to 1 vote for them.

It seems that the people of Glendale can be depended upon to do the right thing when they know what is required and why, see the remedy and have concise assurances as to how the enterprises and funds authorized are to be handled.

Suggests Plan
Unfortunately there have been several "hobby-horses" paraded for them—several issues with questionable motif—and the spirit which has rammed through "public improvements" and tried to ride "Four-horseman-like" have made the people suspicious and distrustful.

Likewise there are many who do not believe sufficient returns have been received from various assessments and appropriations in the past. In this new issue your committee apparently has faced the situation squarely and honestly. For one I am convinced the bonds should and must be voted promptly, but there are still some things to be desired before authorizing the two school boards to handle $2,400,000.

It is safe to say a large majority of voters in Glendale favors the single school board and junior high system and feel that if Pasadena and Los Angeles have installed it there can be no valid reason why it has not or cannot be done in Glendale. They believe completing the new high school to maximum capacity and building necessary junior high schools, added to the single board system will adequately solve all school problems more efficiently, economically and more future needs better than the plan at present advocated.

Name Committee
If your honorable committee will convince the people that the single-board junior high system has not been killed by selfish interests and that it will be installed in Glendale it will go a long way toward securing success at this time, at least for the elementary bonds.

If you will also guarantee that a really representative business men's committee will be appointed and function to see that Glendale gets a dollar's worth of school plant for each dollar expended, guarantee this committee will find out what other cities receive for their dollar, both physical and in results and see that Glendale does not get less, it hardly seems possible the elementary bonds could be defeated.

For the high school bonds it is another matter. There is time to reconsider this plan. If these bonds are defeated and I believe they will be, but not from unwillingness to authorize the amount, revamped plans calling for the completion of the new high and the construction of juniors would carry easily.

Opposes Harvard Sale
It was in line with the thoughts outlined above that I was opposed to the sale of the Harvard site for civic center purposes. It is pathetic to see how soon that opposition has been justified and it surely is time that Glendale awake from its apathy regarding haphazard administration of civic affairs and demand and get honest and efficient service in all departments; doubtless most of it is honest, some of it efficient. Each one is entitled to fix his own proportions.

Your committee now has a chance to help fix these relative figures. A vigilance committee for school affairs appointed through your efforts readily could be extended and expanded to cover all civic projects, public officials and their acts. Glendale needs it urgently.

One more suggestion. In case it becomes necessary to resubmit high school bonds to the people why not at the same time reopen the civic center project but substitute for the admittedly indispensable Harvard site the plot occupied by the Colorado school. Funds derived by the school board for school purposes from this unsuitable site, with no valuable

L. C. LEEDS URGES BONDS' SUPPORT

Presents Six Reasons Why
People Should Vote for Issues Next Tuesday

Editor The Evening News—I have just six reasons why anyone and everyone in Glendale who can vote must vote for the school bonds.

First—It does not matter whether you like it or not—children cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Taxes or no taxes, we must treat a child humanely, and to crowd the children into schoolrooms like we have to now is worse than loading cattle into stock cars.

Second—We must not think that we can dodge the issue. For just as certain as the sun shines, if we do not vote for the school bonds and give the school children the needed facilities to work with, then we will in a few short years hence pay out double and triple the amount of money in court costs and jail maintenance to correct the same bunch that we now have an opportunity to protect. If we don't protect, then we must correct. Gentlemen and ladies let's get our harness blinds in the shape of a dollar bill off our eyes and look this question fairly and squarely in the face.

Third—We need not expect the money we are going to pay our teachers in the future to accomplish anywhere near what it ought if we do not give the teachers sufficient room and equipment to work with. Who likes to work with dull tools. Teachers cannot perform miracles.

Looking Into Future
Fourth—Common gratitude demands of us that we do as much for the next generation as the last generation did for us. Can we afford to do otherwise?

Fifth—If Glendale is to continue to grow as it has in the past and be up among the other cities of Southern California and the United States, that our schools must be constantly improved, and this takes money. Who wants to come to a city where everything the schools are modern? Believe me, two very important questions asked by parents when choosing a new location is: How about your schools and churches?

Sixth—I am told that Glendale is as poorly equipped in the way of school facilities as some other towns in Southern California just one-fourth its size. If you don't believe it, take a trip around Glendale and then visit other places of considerably less population and see for yourself. It's too bad that our fair southland is keeping within its borders anyone who is not for progress, for Southern California is progressive and must continue to progress if it is to hold its own. Then surely, people, we need schools.

In other words, a vote against school bonds is a rock thrown in the course of progress of our fair Southern California from a moral, social, spiritual and intellectual standpoint.

Yankees' Love Of Chance Is Fortune Saver

TUNNEL CAMP, High Sierras, Cal., Feb. 14.—How the spirit of chance or the love of Americans for gambling has saved a power company $6,000,000 was revealed today by officials for the Southern California Edison Co., building Florence lake tunnel, the longest, widest bore in the world.

Wagering huge sums on their prowess as rock drillers, two crews at work on the tunnel project have completed construction twenty-two months in advance of schedule.

Pushed along by fighting spirit, increased by their healthy betting, the laborers have so reduced the finishing time of the bore that it has caught the "run-off" from this winter's melting mountain snows, creating a water storage valued at more than $1,000,000. This, coupled with the interest saving on $17,000,000, the tunnel's cost, will save the company a total of $6,000,000, officials said.

WOODMEN PICNIC FOR CANYON SITE

Glendale Camp to Journey
In Body to Santa Ana
Tomorrow Morning

Members of Glendale Camp No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America, and their families will journey to the recently acquired recreation center in Santa Ana canyon Sunday, where they will hold a picnic. To reach the picnic grounds drive out Whittier boulevard to Fullerton, turning left at the Masonic temple, Chapman street to Placentia, crossing the railroad, thence east, crossing Santa Ana river and then left to Santa Ana canyon, and drive five and three-quarters miles.

The site comprises twenty acres with the river running through it and it is the intention of the Woodmen to provide modern country club features and cabin sites for the members. All details will be explained at the grounds at 10 o'clock and Camp Clerk Henry Molz advises all members to leave in time to be there at that hour.

Glendale members will meet at the corner of South Brand boulevard and Colorado street Sunday morning at 8 o'clock and make the trip in a body. Transportation will be provided for those without cars.

On Proper Material

A huge audience that filled all but a few scattered seats at the rear of the great tabernacle heard John Brown, evangelist, deliver his second sermon at the union revival services last night. Mr. Brown told his listeners that, as the most difficult task of the potter mentioned in the eighteenth chapter of Jeremiah is to find the proper material with which to work, so there is a great need for a greater number of men and women in the world whom God can use in making leaders in His work.

There is not a lack of good material, but God doesn't seem to be able to get hold of it, he said. The speaker declared that this is a jazz age, when everybody is in a hurry. "They are not going anywhere, and they have nothing to do when they arrive, but, nevertheless, they are in a hurry." "Belief alone will not effect salvation," Mr. Brown said. "You can't believe to the point of saving your soul unless you have repented to the point of quitting your sins."

Old-time Religion
The evangelist made a plea for old-time religion, declaring it to be the best cure for the ills of the world today. He scored the "religious used-to-be-er" and the "religious bushwhacker," those who were church members at one time, before they came to California, but who have neglected to affiliate with any church since coming here.

"When they move, they take their furniture and clothing with them, but leave their religion behind. If all these bushwhackers could be herded back to church in Glendale, ten new houses of worship would have to be built to accommodate them," he said.

The atmosphere of right association was stressed as a paramount necessity in leading a religious life. Mr. Brown warned against "tying up at the old hitching post after having quit the old life and taken a stand for God." "If you don't find a new hitching post, you won't last long in grace and goodness," he said. The speaker concluded by asserting that all things are possible to the Almighty, and stressed that instantaneous conversion was not hard or impossible for Him.

DARKENED WINDOWS

by Cornelia Kane Rathbone

WHO KILLED HANNIBAL HURST?

He was an old millionaire, known to be stern and cruel. Yet he had few enemies outside his household. Could it have been Evadne, his young and beautiful wife, whose past was a mystery? Could it have been Estelle, his cold and classically beautiful daughter, with whom he had quarreled violently? Could it have been "Brown," an anarchist, who had paid him a mysterious visit?

The crime was committed behind

but the murderer is brought to light, skillfully and cleverly, in the last chapter.

Don't begin "DARKENED WINDOWS" if you are inclined to be "jumpy" for there are plenty of thrills in our latest mystery story

LIFE IS SPOILED—

By envying the man who has made more money.
By coveting the success of a hard-working friend.
By allowing discontent to spawn furies in our own soul.
By holding our own abilities in contempt.
By compelling ourselves to see the unpleasant side of everything.
By putting our spirit under the mastery of money.

ENCOURAGE GOOD FILMS

Censorship of motion pictures as it is now carried on is rather absurd and will never be successful, since it is so manifestly unfair both to the picture industry and the public. There are no uniform standards. What is moral in one state is immoral in another, and a picture approved by the censorship boards in both these states might be turned down by another. Censorship is unsound and un-American because the censors are absorbed in trying to enforce their own tastes, their own moral viewpoints and their own prejudices and convictions upon people who may be just as moral and good in every way and still have different ideas from those of the censors.

In Ohio, the censors could not agree as to the degree of immorality of a certain picture that was widely advertised some time ago. The final decision was that it might be exhibited for seven days, but no longer. In a certain Massachusetts town a picture involving an illegitimate child may be shown on a week day, but not on Sunday. In some places the length of a screen kiss is limited to so many feet of film. Nearly all censors agree on one point, that a man may mistreat his own wife, but he must use discretion toward other women. One Ohio censor is said to have remarked that the people were not going to have the kind of pictures they wanted, but the kind they ought to have.

Under the present system most of the world's classic literature could not survive. Antony and Cleopatra would have to be married. "The Taming of the Shrew" would be barred in several states as a physical attack upon a woman. "Othello" would not be permitted at all in the south. Many states would reject "The Scarlet Letter" entirely and all the four gospels would be prohibited in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kansas.

But the fact remains that there are a great many pictures appearing on the screen that are decidedly not elevating and are unfit to be shown, especially to children.

The city federation of Parent-Teacher associations of Memphis, Tenn., is dealing very capably with this problem. Members of the association attend every theatre in the city on Monday and on Tuesday there is posted in the schools of the city a list of the good shows being given at the theatres and special mention is made of those which are good for young children. And here is an important feature of the plan: No mention is made of those films which the committee does not consider good plays. They do not help to advertise the bad films.

A speaker recently told Los Angeles clubwomen that if he were to condemn or criticize any film or play their natural curiosity would cause them to go to see it or they would speak about it to others who would go. The thunder of silence is mighty effective.

The plan undertaken in Memphis to improve the quality of pictures is not spectacular. The women are not arbitrary. They do not say this must be or must not be. They simply encourage what is good and keep silent about the rest. This will be found a very good method of bringing about any reform. And it is said the theatre owners and managers of Memphis are taking the hint.

BOOTLEGGING IMMIGRANTS

According to the estimate of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, hundreds of thousands of aliens, neither nationals of Mexico nor Canada, are entering the United States across the international boundary lines. For this reason Secretary Davis is trying to push legislation that would place all the American states on the same immigration ratio that applies to the rest of the world. This is not for the purpose of keeping the people of Canada or Mexico out of the United States, but, if the quota law were applied to our neighbors, they would see that the benefit was reaped by their own people and not by aliens.

Of course it is impossible to know how many aliens have come into our country by the back door, but, be they few or many, it is evident that they are not the desirable class it is possible for us to secure under the selective principle of the new immigration law. That is one of the splendid features of the new law, that we may choose from those who wish to come to us, those who will make the best citizens.

It will be readily seen that the back door entrance into the United States is mighty convenient and unless it is closed in some way our new immigration law will be of little or no benefit.

INSINCERITY AND MISUNDERSTANDING

One of the most difficult things in the world is to get someone who does not agree with you to look at any question from your standpoint, or for you to look at the matter from his. This lack of understanding accounts for most of the trouble in the world, from sectional differences in the community to wars between nations.

When we plead for unity in the community, nine times out of ten we do not mean what we say. What we really wish is that the people of this, that and the other section shall forget their own needs and work for ours. We do not intend to relax our diligence where our own interests are concerned.

The same applies to war. We say we do not want war and we assume that other nations do not want war, either. Yet a war machine must be built up for our defense. The trouble is, we are all insincere. Other nations see our self-righteousness and insincerity and we see theirs. Our war preparations are all for defense, theirs for offense, as we look at it. They see it in just the opposite light.

Insincerity breeds suspicion and suspicion leads to all kinds of trouble.

Every effort is being made to eliminate grade crossings, but the grade crossers are devoting their talents to eliminating themselves.

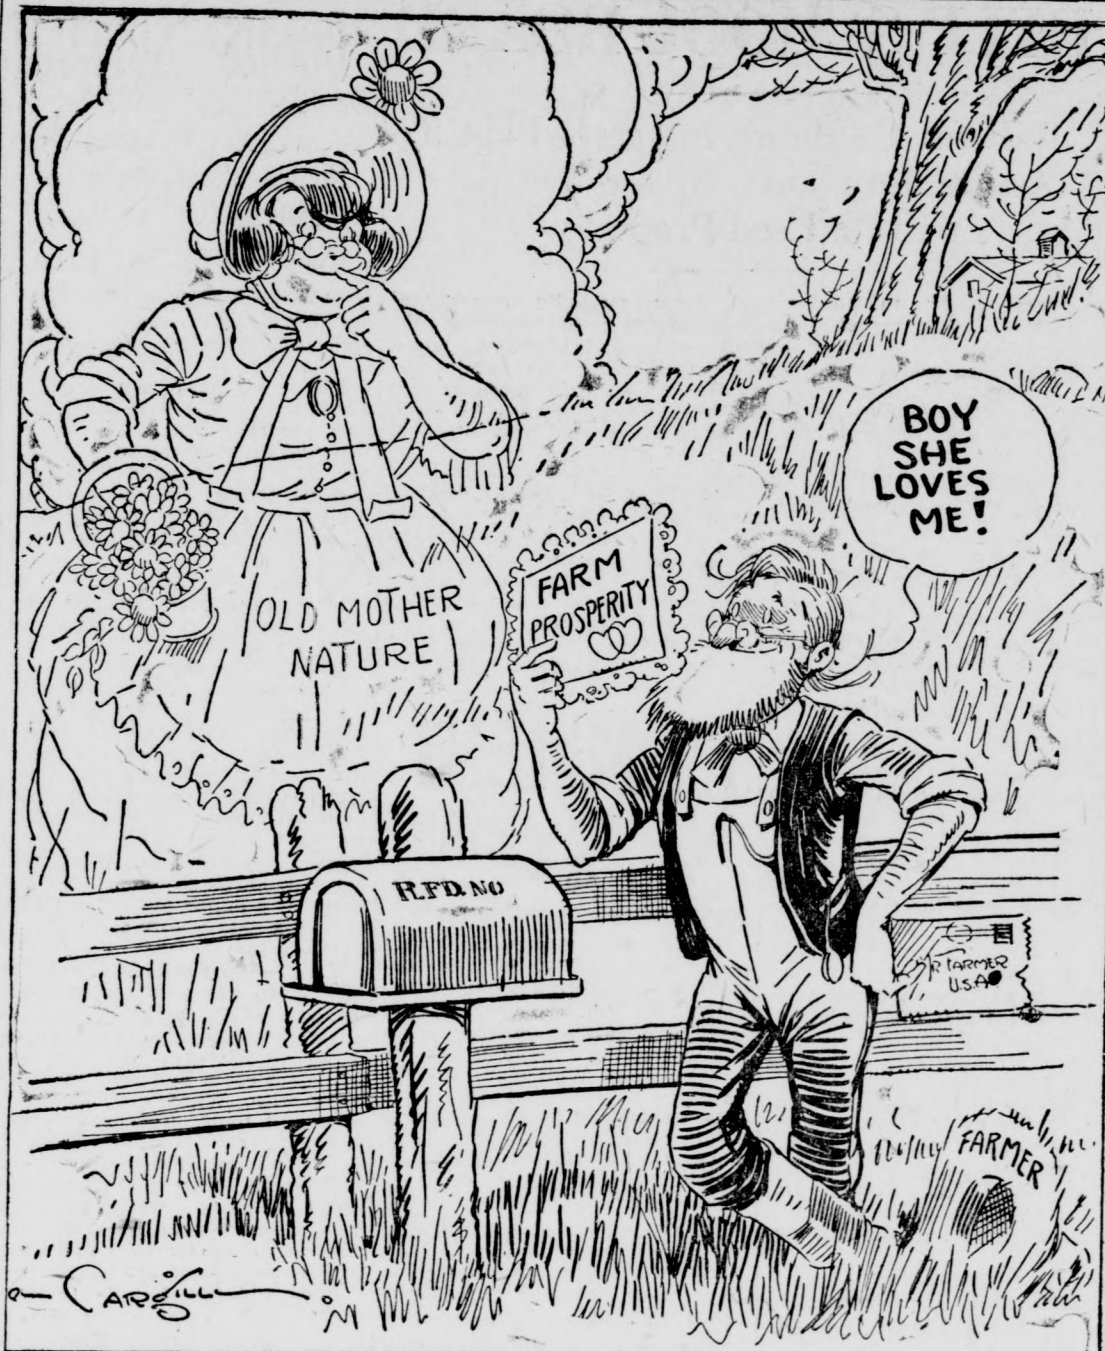

Doctors say kissing is dangerous—and the quota of young dare-devils grows larger every year.

HER VALENTINO

The Unescapable Self

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is one person we can never get away from, and that is one's self.

There is a story told of Shelley that he had a dream in which he saw a man who thwarted his every purpose. He caused his business plans to fail, he interfered whenever he was on the point of success in a literary way, he did all he could to annoy and frustrate him. Finally Shelley was about to marry a beautiful girl, and when the minister at the altar asked if anyone could show cause why the two should not be joined together the stranger stepped forward. He had always worn a veil over his face so that Shelley could not see him. Angered by his interference Shelley leaped forward and tore the veil from his face. He discovered that it was himself.

So the man that is always getting in our way and frustrating our endeavors is ourself. Men take drink or drugs in the effort to escape from themselves. For a while they are another creature. But the old self eventually comes back.

A man committed a crime some years ago in New Jersey. On account of it he left his wife and family and finally settled in Detroit. There, under an assumed name he married again and achieved success. He was a highly respected citizen until the detectives found him and taxed him with his old criminal record. He escaped self for many years, but it finally found him.

In one of Oscar Wilde's plays the man asks the woman to run away with him. They would go to some distant place. "For," he says in urging her, "the world is wide." "No," she replies, "the world is not wide for me. It has shrunk to a palm's breath."

There is an oriental proverb to the effect that a man may sail the seven seas, but he will not escape from himself.

It is a common delusion of people to think that they can be happy somewhere else. But happiness does not depend upon the place you are, but upon what you are. Even heaven cannot assure us happiness by the simple means of transporting us to another place; our characters must also be transformed.

There is a legend of a monkey in the hand of Buddha. He tried to escape and jumped farther than any monkey had jumped before, but he still found himself in Buddha's hand.

So we may go to the end of the earth, to the bottom of the sea, or to the stars in heaven. We shall not escape ourselves.

Horoscope

Although the Sun is friendly in influence early in the morning of this day, astrologers read that Mars is strongly adverse.

While this planetary government prevails there may be much warlike talk and even diplomatic difficulties with a foreign power.

Congress is likely to meet embarrassing issues at this time when defense plans will be much discussed, but without any great results, if the stars are read aright.

Under this rule discussions and quarrels may be easily produced between individuals or nations and it is well to remember that a soft answer turns away wrath. Domestic misunderstandings may be numerous at this time when there will be many sensational divorce cases.

Changes in the President's cabinet will take place rather unexpectedly, it is foretold. Engineers and contractors may suffer from a temporary letting up of work, but they will be called upon to perform big feats before the end of the year.

Accidents due to mechanical difficulties may be numerous and serious under this direction of the stars.

This is not a lucky way in which to solicit orders or to make canvasses.

Courage, energy and ambition may be at ebbside today, but knowledge of the power of the mind will enable humanity to overcome physical conditions.

Trouble concerning a child, probably a grandchild, is forecast for the Queen of England.

Places of amusements in eastern cities are to suffer from shrinkage of box-office receipts, owing to bad weather, but there will be increased interest in the spoken drama, it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is should beware of the temptation to go to law, for their tempers may overcome discretion.

The year should be fairly fortunate. Children born on this day may be rash and self-willed, but endowed with vivid personalities and able to win high places.

Today's Poem

ONE WORD IS TOO OFTEN PROFANED
One word is too often profaned
For me to profane it,
One feeling too falsely disdained
For me to disdain it,
One hope is too like despair
For me to despise it,
One purity too like sin
For me to sin against it,
And pity from thee more dear
Than that from another.

I can give not what men call love;
But wilt thou accept not
The worship the heart lifts above
And the heavens reject not;
The desire of the moth for the star,
Of the night for the morrow,
The devotion to something afar
From the sphere of our sorrow?
—Percy Bysshe Shelley.

More errors are made by human beings in the cold periods of winter or hot days of summer than in the spring and autumn, say investigators of the United States Bureau of Mines.

Who's Who

Jugo-Slavia's aged premier, Nicholas Pashitch, faces another political crisis which threatens his government in his order causing the arrest of Stefan Radich, leader of the Croatian Peasants' party. Pashitch charges Radich with being a Soviet agent who is trying to "sell out" his country to Hungary.

The situation is growing more tense hourly. Pashitch is given credit in international circles for holding together the Jugo-Slav countries when their disruption would throw them open to exploitation by the larger nations and ultimately bring on another great conflict.

Pashitch was considered an anarchist of the most violent type in his young days. He studied to be an engineer. By the time he had reached 40, however, he had forsaken the anarchistic views and was established in business as a prosperous insurance man, president of a big concern.

His friends lightly recall that he was still in politics, however. He was opposed to the pro-Austrian moves fostered by King Milan, and would tip off his business associates to hesitate about assuming risks involving Austrian concerns when such plots became serious.

Pashitch finally was forced into exile by King Milan. When exile failed to eliminate him as an influential opponent Milan tried to create distrust among Pashitch's followers by having the present premier as his "guest" at a state dinner.

Pashitch's friends did not know for a time he had been taken to the dinner under guard and by force.

He obtained his revenge, later, when he was instrumental in compelling Milan to abdicate his throne and then became premier for Milan's son, King Alexander Obrenovitch. On the death of Obrenovitch and his consort, Queen Draga, Pashitch helped restore the present Karageorgevitch dynasty to the throne and became prime minister under the late King Peter. That he guided the footsteps of Peter's son, King Alexander, through his regency

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

Those persons who endeavor to test their knowledge, and their intellect, by poring over the Edisonian questionnaires going the rounds of the press, are wasting their time.

One of the newest of these questionnaires, published in a leading newspaper with the information that it was used to "test" college students, includes the following queries:

Who owns a ranch of about 160,000 acres in California? About how many golf clubs are made annually in the United States?

On what college football team of 1924 did Horrell play? From what word is "chaps" (worn by cowboys) derived? Who is Walter Hague?

From what university was Booth Tarkington graduated? What are the "White Muleteers of Pennsylvania?"

Who is "Buffalo" Jones? How far is it from Cleveland to Pittsburgh? Why is the Venus de Milo so called?

These are typical of the list, which is typical of such questionnaires. Of what importance are any of the questions? And do they represent a sample of what is being taught in the colleges now?

Knowledge is power—but it must be practical knowledge. There is nothing less powerful than knowledge unattached and incapable of application.

"I do not know much," said Samuel Butler, "but if I knew a great deal less than that little I should be far more powerful." Butler believed that the rule should be never to learn a thing till one is pretty sure that one wants it, or that one will want it before long so badly as not to be able to get on without it.

A great many useless things are taught in the schools. It is no wonder that many parents rebel against allowing their children's brains to be crammed with all that the schools want to force upon them.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

BOWLEGS
"Dear Doctor Lulu: I am 18 years old and many times I sit down and cry when I think of how bowlegged I am. Perhaps it is God's will. If you think it is not, please, Dr. Lulu, please help me.—Betsy."

"Dear Betsy, the time is past when we blame the Lord for our afflictions. You probably have rickets when you were a child. I am afraid at your age the bones are pretty well set now and nothing but an operation can help you. These operations are performed successfully by skillful orthopedic surgeons."

If there is no known skillful orthopedic surgeon where you live, try to get in touch with some big orthopedic hospital in some large city and have a consultation with one of its staff. There are such hospitals in most large cities."

"Dear Doctor: I would rather give up one meal a day than your delicious breezy articles, and this is just what I may have to do—give up the meal, I mean. I am 23, five feet, two, in height and at least 4 pounds overweight, which is a distressing condition when the present silhouette is the 'real' hips."

"I am a strict vegetarian, so any advice as to cutting corners on the carnivorous part of my diet would be superfluous. But roast me for anything else that occurs to you. For instance, the rocking chair habit, the between-meals habit, the rich foods habit, which includes heaps of mayonnaise, butter and cooking oil; and last but not least, the sweet desserts habit."

"Hubby suffers likewise. He has to his diet meat and eggs and lots of 'em, but no rocking chairs, between-meals, nor rich desserts."

"He has a bad case of common bay window. He is fat and 40; though very red, he is a darling.—Mrs. B."

We have to always keep in mind that we want to improve the style for the improvement of the appearance primarily, but because we want to improve our health, although the improvement of the appearance is a sufficient reason also. We know that if we continue our present course, we are going to bring on one or more of the degenerative diseases—diabetes, heart trouble, kidney trouble, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, and so on.

I hope by strict vegetarian you do not mean that you omit milk and eggs also, because it is very difficult to get the needed food elements on a strict vegetarian diet. Even in my reducing class I advise two glasses of skim or buttermilk each day. Many find that cutting out meat, fish and fowl improves the health. There do not.

For instance, you probably would be benefited by eating some meat and cutting out your rich foods. You should cut out practically all of your oils and rich dessert. However, if you count your calories you can allow a few of some of the things you like.

Hubby goes to the opposite extreme in his excess meat and eggs. You are evidently fond of him, so you had better use your influence in making him reduce that bay window. "Bay window and very red" doesn't sound so good.

The booklet on reducing was sent to you if you enclosed a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps. Did you along.

Let us know how you get along.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.c.e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

EVERY NIGHT TREATMENTS

There are two things I would like to impress very strongly on my readers. One is that a woman cannot have a really clear, healthy skin if she uses soiled powder puffs which simply rub old dirt back into the face, and the other is that her complexion must be clean when she goes to bed, so that for eight or nine hours, or whatever period passes between bedtime and dressing for the day, the pores are clean and free to breathe and to throw off the minute particles of bodily waste which is their particular job.

This cleansing of the skin the last thing at night is most important, as important as brushing the teeth, more important than washing the face during the day. There is always powder on the skin, often rouge, remnants of lip cream, and an accumulation of dust and soot and grime that you cannot realize until you spread cold cream over the face and neck and then wipe it off on a bit of old rag or cheesecloth. The cream will come away black.

I suggest cleansing with cream because it is the easiest and quickest and most effective way of removing the daily amount of dust. If the skin is dry—the weather very cold, use cleansing or olive oil cream, and wipe off as much as you can of it. If the skin is inclined to be oily, or the weather is hot so you need not feed your complexion oils, wash off the cream with a little hot water. I keep squares of cheesecloth in a box, or tear off part of a roll of cotton, dip it in a basin of hot water, squeeze, and use this to take off the cream. It takes less than a minute by my watch to make face and neck perfectly clean, so there is certainly no excuse for the busy woman to object on the grounds that she hasn't time. The heat of the water is soothing and refreshing too.

M.—It would depend upon

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires stamping and postage, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

If you let Him, He can make you live again," he said.

Plans for a great mass meeting at the tabernacle tonight, when the largest attendance to date is expected, were announced by Mr. Brown. Everyone was urged by the evangelist to be present tonight.

All churches and Sunday schools co-operating in the union services will hold services of their own Sunday morning in their respective houses of worship. Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, however, a second big mass meeting will be held at the tabernacle. There will be no services at the tabernacle on Monday.

Betrothal Party

Entertaining at a Valentine tea this afternoon at her home, 314 East Chestnut street, Miss Ruth Spafford announced her engagement to Dr. V. P. Ervin of Burbank. The betrothal was told after a program of music and readings, each guest being presented with a Valentine fashioned of two hearts tied with red ribbon. In the centers were smaller hearts bearing pictures of Miss Spafford and Dr. Ervin. Between the pictures was the announcement that the wedding will be an event of the coming summer. Miss Spafford was assisted in receiving by her grandmother, Mrs. J. I. Spafford; Dr. Ervin's mother, Mrs. Estella Ervin; and her cousin, Miss Edith Griffith of Los Angeles. Features of the program were vocal duet and solos by Misses Grace and Juanita Claycomb; readings by Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy; violin selections by Miss Genevieve Mulligan; piano numbers by Miss Edith Griffith; vocal solos by Mrs. Irving Bullock and Mrs. Estella Ervin. A Valentine game was also a part of the entertainment. At a late hour a buffet luncheon was served. The engagement of Miss Spafford and Dr. Ervin is of much interest in Glendale, where both are well known. Miss Spafford, who is the daughter of M. H. Spafford, has lived in Glendale with her father and grandparents for eighteen years. She attended and graduated from Glendale grammar and high schools. Following graduation she continued her musical study and last year served in the editorial department of the Glendale Evening News. A Valentine game was also a part of the entertainment. Auxiliaries Meet

A meeting of Glendale, Eagle Rock and Montrose American Legion auxiliaries was held last night at the home of Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward, 307 North Kenwood street. The gathering was planned as a reception to Mrs. Lillie Samuels of San Francisco, state president, but she was unable to be present. Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president of the Glendale auxiliary, presided over an informal meeting, when president of the other auxiliaries told of the work in their units. Mrs. Dutton, president of the Eagle Rock auxiliary, and Mrs. Holloway, president of the Montrose auxiliary, reported their work. Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce entertained with two humorous readings, and Mrs. George L. Kaeding, piano solos. Mrs. Stevenson, representing Lester Meyer chapter, American War Mothers, was also present. Refreshments of home-made cake, punch and coffee were served later in the evening. Glendale auxiliary members will hold a meeting Monday night at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. George L. Kaeding, 227 North Central avenue. A meeting of the executive board will be held at 7:15 o'clock. Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president, will have charge of the meeting.

Form New Club

Women living in the vicinity of East Chestnut and East Maple streets met Thursday afternoon at the home Mrs. F. E. Wilkes, 610 East Chestnut street for the purpose of organizing a neighborhood women's club. At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Mrs. F. E. Wilkes, president; Mrs. Nina Ashton, vice-president; Mrs. H. C. Feder, secretary; Mrs. H. V. Elkins, treasurer. Mrs. Everett Pinkston was elected chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Phillips chairman of the membership committee. Several matters relative to preliminary steps for the organization of a social and educational club, with moderate dues and meetings to be held at the homes of members on the first and third Thursdays at 1 o'clock were discussed. After the business meeting Mrs. Wilkes was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Sherbon. All women living in the East Chestnut and East Maple street community are cordially invited to attend the next meeting Thursday, February 19, at the home of Mrs. Ashton, 604 East Chestnut street.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. George Bigelow of 1531 North Columbus avenue was hostess at two bridge luncheons this week. On Wednesday she entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club. Guests were Mesdames Lyman Craig, Theodore Dugger and H. E. McCartney. Mrs. J. A. Endicott won first prize; Mrs. Wolfe, second; Mrs. Frank Banham, third; Mrs. Craig, guest prize. Spring flowers and old-fashioned Valentines were used on the luncheon table. Yesterday guests at the Bigelow home were Mrs. A. McNeely and daughter Alice of St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. James Veitch of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. C. Alders of Hollywood; Mrs. Frank Connelly of Los Angeles; Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mrs. Theodore Dugger of Glendale. Mrs. Dugger won high score at bridge.

Royal Neighbors

Plans for the district meeting of Royal Neighbors in Glendale February 27 were completed at the meeting of Royal Neighbors last night at the Odd Fellows' hall. A large class of candidates will be present at the gathering. Lodges from Monrovia, Covina, Azusa and Pasadena will have delegations. Present, Mrs. Christina Hamilton of Los Angeles, state deputy, is expected to be present. Mrs. Maud Rucker, oracle, has charge of arrangements for the meeting. Announcement was made of the bar-b-que picnic, tomorrow at Santa Ana canyon, for the Royal Neighbors and Royal Neighbors. A large delegation from the Royal Neighbors will meet all day Thursday at the home of Mrs. Sidelienz at 421 West Burchett street.

Entertain Club

Charming in all its appointments and delightfully informal was the Valentine party last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bion S. Warner, 345 Chester street, where Mrs. Warner and Mrs. James F. Armstrong entertained members and friends of Glendale Art association. French bouquets were used in decorating. The Valentine motif appeared in all the appointments. A warm reception greeted the arrival of a "Dodo bird" from Idyllwild, carrying a Valentine. Edward Langley, art director for the Douglas Fairbanks studio in Hollywood, was guest of honor and speaker, giving a talk on the "Evolution of the Moving Picture." His talk included many interesting reminiscences of his personal experiences in his work during the infancy of the industry. He explained much of the ingenuity used in trick photography.

FILM ACTRESS VISITOR LIST ADDRESSES REALTORS GROWING IN CALIFORNIA

Beverly Hills Board Told Of Houses That Acting Built by Star

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14.—The Houses That Acting Built was the subject of a speech made by Helene Chadwick, film star, before a luncheon of the Beverly Hills Realty board this week. She is among the many motion-picture stars who have recently built homes in southern California, and relative to her chosen profession, she said: "Acting is a great profession in more ways than one. It butters my bread and sometimes affords me a little jam, too. It converted your hills into a beautiful community. And it enables real estate dealers to give elaborate dinners among themselves."

Now for a business point of view toward Hollywood as the cinema center of the world, with its hundreds of managers, directors, actors and extras living in cozy little homes in Glendale, Los Angeles, Beverly Hills and other adjacent communities. "There is nothing like it in the east," says Sime Silverman, publisher of Variety, a leading magazine of the profession. "No wonder Hollywood producers come to New York, make one picture and then return west."

Box Lunch Record
"Incidentally, citizens of Hollywood are the greatest consumers of box lunches in the world, because of its motion picture industry. The books of the Famous Players-Lasky studio, thrown open by Arch Reeve, reveal that 27,000 box lunches were consumed during the month of January."

Other eastern editors and writers are singing the praises of the movie colony. "The Nomad" using two columns of space in the Boston Transcript recently to describe the yellow hills and their hundreds of homes. His advice was against the building of Colonial houses which "look out of place," favoring the Spanish type of architecture.

The variety of construction appealed to this eastern critic's eye, while the stately mansions in the higher hills, looking down upon the plain of hundreds of smaller homes and bungalow courts was quite in keeping with the fitness of things, in his opinion.

PEACH CROP GOOD
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 14.—Each bud was not damaged by the recent cold snap in this section. Unless there is a late killing frost a fine fruit crop is assured.

Radio Figures Now In Real Estate Value
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14.—Radio receptiveness is becoming a factor in real estate values, it was disclosed today by Sacramento realtors.

Since the almost universal adoption of the radio, it has been discovered that "dead spots," in which for some unfathomable reason, the radio sets fail even to register "static" are quite numerous in California. It is declared that in one of the local churches not a sound can be obtained from an expensive radio.

While building restrictions, location and transportation facilities still are prime factors in the selection of home sites by investors, to these three must be added another—radio receptivity. If the other conditions are such that the family cannot receive messages by the radio, values fall far below adjacent lots in which the radio set operates without interruption.

The time is here when purchasers are asking a test of radio communication before making a binding payment. Following the example of many eastern realtors, California operators are beginning to include in their guarantees an additional one promising that etheric communication with the world at large is not prevented by the existence of celestial "dead spots."

Persons who desire quietude possibly may be content with a residence lot over which atmospheric conditions forbid use of a radio but the vast majority demand otherwise.

Realty Board Recommends Tax Changes

The taxation committee of the Glendale Realty board has recommended as follows: "We find that mortgages on California property are not assessed to the mortgagee. This, we feel, is unjust, and recommend that such property be assessed, and a credit allowed to the mortgagor. In other words if a property is worth $5,000 and there is a mortgage for $2,000, that the assessable basis of the $3,000 equity be assessed against the owner of the property, or mortgagor, and that the assessable basis of the $2,000 mortgage be assessed against the mortgagee. In days gone past it was both advisable and good policy to not assess mortgages in order to encourage foreign mortgages to come into California; but, now that there is money in large quantities to be had for this purpose, it is only right that we follow the custom of other states and assess this property."

The report of the Glendale taxation committee has been submitted to the taxation committee of the California Real Estate association.

REALTY BILLS SURVEY NOW COMPLETE

State Association Conference Tuesday to Rehearse All Legislation

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
SANTA ANA, Feb. 14.—Freeman H. Bloodgood, chairman of the California Real Estate association legislative committee, today is completing a survey of all bills introduced in the preliminary session. Thirty-two Assembly bills and a half-dozen Senate bills affecting the realty profession will be subject of a conference of the legislative committee, to be held in the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles, next Tuesday.

Chairman Bloodgood will urge the solid support of all realtors in obtaining a research and statistical bureau of the state real estate department for the dissemination of authentic information as suggested by the Sacramento Realty board and supported by the Los Angeles board.

The Santa Ana board, at its luncheon yesterday noon, went on record favoring the idea which is fostered by the California Real Estate association.

Subdividers' Measure Is Generally Opposed
The proposed amendment by which subdividers would be brought under the direct supervision of the state real estate department as to titles of property, methods of financing, and generally to place them under the state department, has not yet been endorsed by realtors throughout the state. Some favor but a majority oppose it, on the ground that there are sufficient restrictions now around subdivisions.

The amendment was proposed by Commissioner Keiser who said it was based upon his actual experience in handling cases involving subdividers that are brought to his attention. The amendment was submitted to the state association's legislative committee whose chairman, Freeman H. Bloodgood, a former commissioner, held that it was almost impractical of effective enforcement because of the huge outlay of funds that would be required to investigate all subdivisions filed in the state. During the past three years, according to the legislative committee survey, more than 6000 subdivisions were filed in California counties, and over half of these in Los Angeles county.

DODGE CAR OUTPUT
DETROIT, Feb. 14.—Dodge Brothers shipped 225,104 motor cars last year, of which 193,861 were passenger vehicles. These figures practically represent retail sales also, as dealers closed the year with stocks unusually low. The company completed its tenth year with a total production of 1,250,000 cars built and sold. Larger production is planned for this year than in 1924.

ST. LOUIS EXCHANGE
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 14.—Total sales on the local stock exchange last week amounted to 16,083 shares, as against 9,803 the previous week and 2190 the corresponding week of last year. An increase of $5,243,000 in market value of the Laclede Gas Co. in the last eleven months has caused a revival of a demand by consumers for cheaper rates.

About half of the automobiles in China are from this country.

LOG-SAWING RECORD
PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 14.—The best fir mill of the Long-Bell Lumber Co. at Longview, Wash., has established a record by cutting 496 logs, for a total of 577,965 feet, in a single eight-hour shift, an average of better than 72,000 feet of lumber an hour, which is believed to be a world's record.

Eight thousand golden jackal fur skins, "no tails," were recently offered for sale by a firm in Johannesburg, South Africa.

COLONIZATION AGENT SEES GOOD YEAR

Santa Fe Official Predicts Great Advancement In 1925 for State

"It is time for all good Californians to pull the crepe off their doors and tell the undertaker to go hang," C. L. Seagraves of Chicago, colonization agent of the Santa Fe system, told the California realtors at a luncheon recently. "Nothing is inherently wrong with California in which I have the most abiding faith."

Mr. Seagraves said that the year 1925 would be one of the best in the history of the state. California real estate, he declared, has a sound future, and is becoming more and more valuable as each new resident comes to this state to make his home.

Taxation Survey
According to the California Real Estate association taxation survey the addition of every new family of five people to this state adds $5,000 assessed wealth to the state of California.

California has enjoyed a consistent growth in real estate development for the past 75 years, the survey revealed, and the seeds of today, basing their forecast on the record of the past, confidently visualize 25,000,000 and real estate worth $50,000,000,000 in California in the year 2000 A. D. just seventy-five years hence.

William May Garland predicts a population of 1,500,000 in Los Angeles in 1930; this is an increase of nearly 200 per cent over the last census.

DRY DETECTIVES HELD
SANTA ANA, Feb. 14.—Formal charges were filed today against three Anti-Saloon league detectives charging them with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, Ivory Shields, aged 20, of this city, whom Mrs. Edward Ward, Mrs. E. R. Wall, E. R. Wall and Frank Martin are accused of having led from the path of righteousness. They will appear for hearing next Friday.

DENIES STUDENT REVELS
SANTA ANA, Feb. 14.—William Clayton, vice-principal of Polytechnic High school here, today came to the defense of students charged with staging wild parties and other revels. He quoted "grades" to show they were bright, and stated that other schools' leaders considered Santa Ana conditions excellent.

THIS SHOULD BE BEACH
HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 14.—Rev. Luther A. Arthur, pastor of the Baptist church here, will tell his Sunday evening audience "Why the World Did Not Come To An End," but in the morning he preaches on "The Beginning of a New Age."

TO WELCOME ADMIRAL
ANAHEIM, Feb. 14.—The Chamber of Commerce here is planning a celebration in honor of Admiral Cointz, U. S. N., on his arrival here the first of next week to visit relatives in Orange county. He left Puget Sound February 9, en route to San Pedro where he disembarks Tuesday.

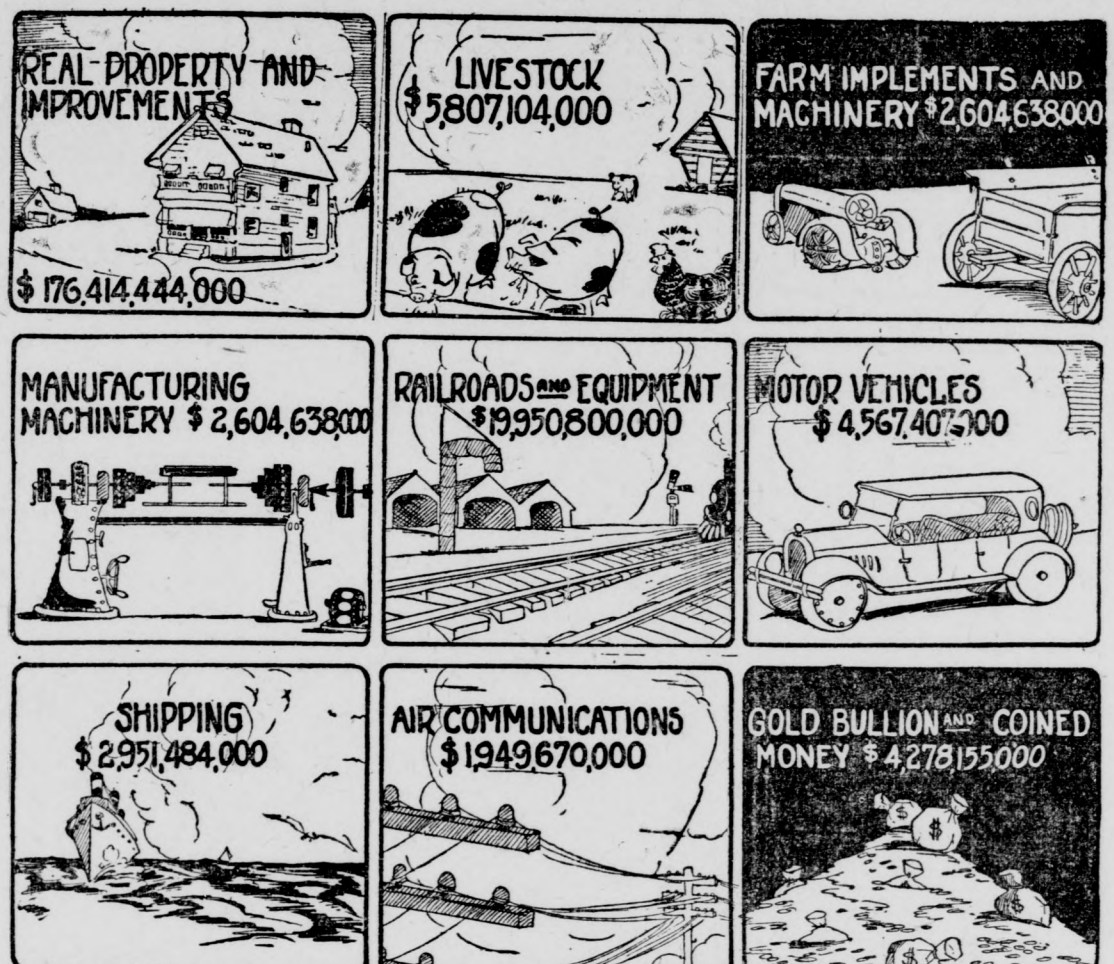

OFFICIALS GET GATE
FULLETON, Feb. 14.—City Marshal Arthur, Eels of this city and City Marshal Bert Moody of Anaheim have been asked to resign to maintain harmony in these Orange county towns, it is reported. Too much Ku Klux Klan is said to be the seat of troubled officialdom.

BUBBLES STOP TROUBLE
SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 14.—City Manager Herbert Nunn is in receipt of information regarding the latest invention to make the wild waves behave. It is a bubble breaker, compressed air exploding the breakers off shore before they hit harbor shipping, according to the literature.

RIVERSIDERS WILL BE THERE
RIVERSIDE, Feb. 14.—Riverside will be well represented at Yuma, Ariz., February 25, when the last stretch of "All Year Route" highway will be thrown open between the Colorado river town and Phoenix, the state capital. It leaves only few gaps in the Texas-to-California run for motorists that are not paved.

COTTON BRINGS BIG SUM
ELYSIE, Feb. 14.—Figures made public today reveal that the Palo Verde valley received more than a million and a quarter dollars for its 1924 cotton crop, the last of which has been ginned and shipped.

U. S. Richest Country In World Here Are Some Of Reasons For Its Record

Why U. S. Is Richest Nation

By JOHN T. LEWING, JR.
Central Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—If you are an American, you are a citizen of the richest country the world has ever known. The fabulous wealth of Babylon, of Egypt, of the empire of the Incas, of Rome, is dwarfed by the wealth of the United States.

Figures made available by the census bureau, as of 1922, estimate the national wealth at $320,803,862,000, and the presumption is that the country has added considerably to that total in the time since the compilation of the figures began.

This vast sum—undoubtedly the greatest accumulation of material riches in the history of the world—gave Uncle Sam a lead of some 200 billions over John Bull. As against our 320 billions, France was worth but sixty-seven billions and Germany but thirty-five billions.

Estimates of the National City bank of New York make the financial standing of the nations as follows:

Nation	Wealth (in billions of dollars)
United States	320,803
United Kingdom	88,840
France	67,710
Germany	35,700
Italy	25,356
Spain	29,319
Switzerland	4,567
Russia	No data
Poland	17,000
Latvia	1,000
Finland	3,600
Netherlands	8,260
Canada	22,095
Mexico	8,000
Cuba	7,900
Argentina	13,175
Brazil	13,020
Chile	3,064
Peru	4,000
India	21,960
China	19,087
Austria	9,689
New Zealand	1,756

No other country has grown rich so fast as the United States, statistics show. The wealth of the United States has grown from $30,000,000,000 in 1870 to nearly $321,000,000,000 in 1922, a ratio of increase far in excess of that indicated by the generally accepted wealth estimates for other countries. In a little more than half a century, then, our national wealth has multiplied tenfold and more.

But, if the fabled wealth of the ancients descends into insignificance compared with Henry Ford's actual possessions, the riches of the automobile manufacturer are as nothing when our national wealth is taken into account. Mr. Ford's reputed billion couldn't buy one-quarter of our automobiles.

In the decade beginning in 1912 our annual national income increased from thirty-four to fifty billions, our aggregate savings bank deposits from six to fourteen billions, our national bank deposits from six to seventeen billions—all this while our population was increasing by only fourteen millions.

STEEL PRODUCTS
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14.—The feature in the amount of steel products shipped against contracts this week has been the increase in specifications from automobile manufacturers. The automobile makers lagged somewhat in January but now are speeding up production.

Wage disputes in the British coal fields are becoming so frequent that mine owners have to carry large reserves of coal and often are overstocked, all of which has made English fuel prices fluctuate more than normally.

CANTATA WILL BE SONG ON MONDAY FOR INSPECTION

Choral Club and Symphony Glendale Members Invited To Present 'Paul Revere's Ride' To Reception In New Pasadena Edifice

"Paul Revere's Ride" a cantata written by A. J. Gantvoort will be presented Monday night, February 16 at the Glendale Intermediate school by the Glendale Choral club and Symphony orchestra under the direction of J. Arthur Myers. Mrs. Gertrude C. Erb will be accompanist. Mrs. Alexander Mitchell is president of the Choral club and Mrs. Charles H. Toll honorary president of the Symphony orchestra. Rene Olin is president. Following is the program: Glendale Symphony orchestra "Peer Gynt" suite (Grieg); "Morning"; "Asa's Death"; "Antio's Dance"; "In the Hall of the Mountain King"; ballet "Sylvia" (Delibes); "Valse"; "Pizzicato" polka march and procession by Bach; tableaux "Spirit of '76". Rev. C. R. Norton, William Anderson, Roy Flint, "Paul Revere's Ride" by Choral club accompanied by orchestra. Soloists Miss Marie Oliver, Mrs. Gretta Cordary, H. S. Robinson, C. E. Hamilton and Myron Carman. Mr. Gantvoort will be a guest.

State Realty Meeting Urged for San Diego
The San Diego Realty board, through its former president Stephen Barnson, now state vice-president, has extended an invitation to the board of directors of the California Real Estate association to hold its spring meeting Saturday, April 4 at San Diego. Decision will be made by President D. Richard Ainsley shortly. An invitation has also been received by the directors to meet at Yosemite, and at D. I. Monte.

REALTORS AID FOR BUREAU RESEARCH

Advisory Cabinet of State Body Backs Measure For Statistics

The advisory cabinet of the California Real Estate association last Saturday meeting at Los Angeles, and in conference with Speaker Frank F. Merriam, and Assemblyman Howard Davis of Los Angeles, unanimously voted to place its support behind the bill introduced at Sacramento to provide for a bureau of real estate research and statistics under the state real estate department.

Such a bill has been proposed by Assemblyman Frank Ekwand at the request of the California Realtors' Legislative committee. It would establish under the control of the department a bureau for research and investigation of matters pertaining to real estate, for the publication of the results of these surveys through the press and through bulletins issued by the department. The bureau would be maintained out of the funds of the state real estate department and would be wholly under the supervision of the commissioner. The state association has for several years advocated a bureau of real estate research and statistics under the authority of the state of California.

Authoritative Figures
Authoritative figures on the development of California real estate, official figures, facts and information on the resources of the various areas, were never more needed than at present to be broadcast state-wide over the seal of the state. The real estate department is in a position to gather, tabulate and study these facts and figures, realtors declare, and they strongly urge the enactment of this proposed amendment.

The bill, as introduced at the request of the state association's committee is in skeleton form. A bill got up by the Sacramento Real Estate board, and proposed to furnish a state publication annually of the real estate resources, will be combined with the bill for the bureau of research, according to the state association officers. Such a statement was made to the association by Sacramento officers.

Constructive Measure
It is the aim of the real estate men throughout the state to have a constructive measure that would enable them to have accessible at all times the vast fund of information on realty matters.

Vice-presidential districts including the southern territory were represented at the cabinet meeting. Chairman Freeman H. Bloodgood of the legislative committee was present and authority was given to go ahead with the bureau of real estate and have the measure in form to be submitted to the legislature for action immediately after the second session begins on February 24.

New York Realtor Is Visitor In California

A. L. Kinsey, of Buffalo, president of the New York State association of Real Estate boards in 1924, is spending the winter with his family in California. This is his first visit to this state since 1911, and he notes the tremendous expansion of nearly every district that he visits. Cities as well as farming areas have come to the front rapidly, according to Mr. Kinsey, and he feels that California is one of the states with a large future. Mr. Kinsey visited the offices of the California Real Estate association, and plans to visit a number of the realty boards before his return east in the spring.

An umbrella large enough to shield three persons, yet may be collapsed to fit the pocket, has been invented.

County Grows At Rate Of 100 Per Cent

Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the Los Angeles Regional Planning commission, well known in Glendale and Burbank where he has made his home, is authority for the statement that: Los Angeles county has a population of 2,500,000 people, an increase of 100 per cent since the federal census was taken in the latter part of 1919.

This is not a large increase in view of the fact that Glendale alone shows an increase of 400 per cent in the same period, jumping from 13,350 to approximately 56,000, according to postal estimates.

Glendale and Miramar, Florida, are having a neck-and-neck race in comparatively fast growth in this decade.

STOP---STOP---PAYING RENT

Too few people give proper consideration to their housing expenditures—they contribute a given amount each month for the privilege of occupying a house and do not stop to figure that each rental receipt represents wasted energy in their work of life. If they did they would come to know that this same money applied toward the purchase of a home would in a very few months represent a substantial investment—a home for which would be the very means of enabling them to divert this monthly outlay into pleasure channels which at present cannot be experienced because of the monthly rent obligation.

Figure it out for yourself—it really costs more today to rent than it does to buy. The same money you pay out for rent would not only meet payments but care for interest, insurance, etc., as well. So why continue to rent? If this home pleases you and you would like to secure the building plans or additional information, both are available from Editor Building Page, Glendale Evening News.

THE SANITATION OF THE HOME

By F. R. Bruner, of the Jewel City Plumbing Company

The efficiency of each one of us depends upon our health, and our health upon the conditions under which we live. The ideal of the American home-maker is to plan and care for the home so that its sanitary conditions may be of the best and so assure the health and efficiency of the inmates of the home. Therefore, the problem of plumbing is of the most importance in the preliminary planning of the dwelling.

In regard to the plumbing, which includes the supply of water and disposal of waste, the best advice that can be given the home-builder is that the best possible grade of materials be used, and that the work of installing be of the highest grade. Even if the initial cost is greater, economy will be found in the consequent lessening of repairs and replacement and in the improved health of the family.

Much of the plumbing specifications you will have to take on faith, as it is too technical a subject for the average person to understand easily, but, fortunately, Glendale has a city plumbing ordinance whereby minimum requirements are enforced to protect the public health in the matter of proper plumbing.

Your good judgment in selecting your plumber will determine the future comfort of your home. The safest and best guarantee you can have is the reputation of a reliable concern back of the work. If you deal with a reliable firm that is permanently located in business in your city, with an established reputation, they will gladly protect you with a guarantee to make good any parts or replace any fixtures that prove defective during the life of the building.

Honest plumbing merchants warn you "Don't buy seconds." You can't see the hidden defects in second-grade, non-guaranteed plumbing fixtures. They appear after installation. "Seconds" are so-called because they are inferior to first-class, standard products. "Used," or second-hand goods are always under suspicion. In plumbing fixtures, buying either kind of the foregoing is the wildest kind of speculation. It means gambling with health and money, with the cards stacked against you.

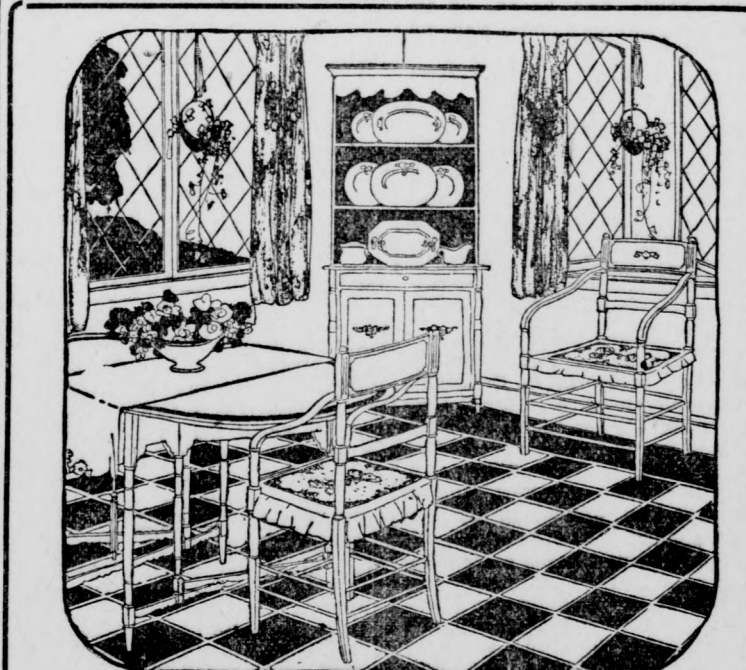

The false economy of buying inferior plumbing fixtures is most likely to result in repair bills that might have been avoided. No one who buys inferior goods has a right to complain if they fail to give good service or permanent satisfaction.

Plumbing prices are down—and the best of plumbing fixtures are now within reach of the average family's pocketbook.

The Bathroom

While the vital considerations in the bathroom planning are immaculateness and convenience, there is no reason why the modern bathroom should not be made attractive. The all-white room, while it is perfectly "sanitary," is certainly dead in its unresponsiveness, and the newer bathrooms are warm and colorful.

Tile floors and walls are ideal, and tiles are now made in lovely colors that harmonize with nearly any favorite color scheme. Soft grey, dull rose, yellow, blue, and green make beautiful walls and floors, either in a solid color or in combinations. If one cannot afford tile, there are excellent imitations made of compositions which may be finished off in colors to suit with waterproof enamel or washable oil paint.

Light Monolithic Construction for Dwellings

New uses for concrete are being found almost every day and also new methods of erecting concrete buildings are being evolved from time to time as our patent office reports indicate.

The type of concrete construction that has recently attracted much attention among builders is a method devised by A. N. Phillips of El Cajon, California.

This form of concrete construction was devised by its inventor so that there will be a large saving in the amount of material used, besides speed is attained in the erection of the building. Several buildings using this method of construction have been erected in San Diego and its vicinity.

The model for the Phillips monolithic construction as it is called, was the frame house with its studs and sheathing. It differs greatly from the hollow concrete block method of construction in which a double solid concrete wall is used, so as to provide an enclosed air space.

In the Phillips system this enclosed air space is obtained by an inside wall covering of lath and plaster attached to the vertical ridge of concrete studs. How Mr. Phillips developed his system he explains as follows: "The first step in the development of the idea was to eliminate the inner section of the double wall as the purpose of this inner surface in all cellular walls is primarily to provide dead air space and to add strength. If the strength could be built into the outer section of the wall a saving would be gained and the objectionable features of a solid inside surface would be removed.

"Taking our idea from a suggestion of the entire strength of a single bag of cement when mixed with the proper amount of aggregate, we devised an outer shell that parallels to a large extent the theory of frame construction with solid supports at regular distances connected by surfaces of less weight but adequate strength.

"A glance at the horizontal section of a specimen of any monolithic construction will show how the solid concrete studs are poured at regular intervals, leaving between them the necessary air spaces enclosed by thin but durable walls.

"The thickness of the wall for an ordinary residence was ascertained by figuring the radius of gyration and with a two-inch thickness it is found that there is an abundance of compressive stress. For heavier work the slab or web can be made of any required thickness. A layer of steel in each 12-inch course takes care of the contraction tendency.

"With the flexibility of concrete, corners can be turned and buildings can be patterned after any architectural style or design. The carpenter has a 1x2 moulding strip at intervals of 16 inches, just as in frame work and the plumber or electrician can go when and where he pleases with his work.

"The plan provides for abundance of ventilation and insulation;

the exterior possesses a surface of the right texture on which stucco will stay stuck; window frames are recessed and such a concrete house has nothing to fear from wind or rain."

For one and two story work the outer part or shell of the wall is 2 inches thick as has been said. This slab is enlarged into a flange or stud at intervals of 16 inches. The depth of the stud is 4 inches. Moulded wedge-shaped inserts are set into the concrete on the inside face to which nailing strips may be attached. The reinforcement consists of a 3/8-inch deformed steel bar set vertically in each stud 16 inches apart on center and a 1/2-inch bar set horizontally 12 inches apart on center.

Lintel beams are made solid with necessary reinforcing. The thickness of the walls over all is 8 inches. Window and door frames are set and trimmed to form a recess in the walls and to allow the concrete to seal them in.

Air inlets are provided over each vent in the foundation and the ample air spaces in the walls permit free and complete circulation.

Portable forms are used and there is very little outlay for the forms required in making the hollow spaces in the walls. Neither are they difficult to install or remove and the same forms may be used on many such successive jobs. All other material used is later put into the roof framing.

The foundation may be built as a separate unit or run in monolithic construction with the chimneys, buttresses, terrace walls, etc., all of which effects a saving in the ultimate cost.

For the concrete mixture a fine aggregate is best. Pea gravel and sand with rich mix, run not too wet, make an excellent surface for a stucco finish.—(From the December Building Age and National Builder.)

The Happiest Man In the World

—Is the man who can raise his eyes from his busy desk, daily labor or fields of activity and reflect upon his HOME with just pride—he is truly a happy man, contented in the thought that the wife's work, because of home conveniences, enables her to get rest and recreation and greet his homecoming with a smile. The kiddies in their own back yard, away from the dangers of the street, can enjoy their play hours in safety, and these thoughts and the love that man holds for his own home fills him with gratitude—a just feeling of pride.

Man's success can be measured from his home, for unity of love, devotion, contentment and home happiness are all important factors for spurring men on—exact maximum of efficiency, which, when properly applied, spells success.

We are featuring this week one of the most popular and practical colonial bungalow homes ever created. The exterior carries details that reflect distinctiveness and which play an all important part in giving this home its pleasing appearance. The exterior is painted white, the shingled roof stained moss green—now by adding foliage and allowing roses to cover the trellises you have a combination that is more than attractive—it's beautiful.

The interior arrangement is also compact and convenient, and altogether a home that is hard to beat.

Plans for this home, together with any information you may care to obtain, are available from Lumbermen's Service Assn., 407 Fay Building, Los Angeles, California.

Riverside Lumber Co. Enjoys Rapid Growth

E. T. Nelson, manager and owner of the Riverside Lumber Co., at 3021 Riverside drive, just south of the Atwater section, reports that the growth of this lumber company has been phenomenal.

Ground was first broken for the home of this concern last November 1st, and the business was established December 1. A large stock of all kinds of lumber, including rough, finish and interior finish; paints, sash and doors, roofing paper, lath, shingles, hardwood flooring, etc., is kept for immediate delivery.

Mr. Nelson resides in Glendale, and is securing considerable business from the southern section of the city.

LUMBER ORDERS

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 14.—Lumber orders to Southern Pine association mills decreased 8.9 per cent last week, to 65,700,000 feet. Shipments decreased 4.6 per cent, to 69,800,000 feet, and production gained a fraction of 1 per cent, to 73,500,000 feet. Unfilled orders total 263,800,000 feet.

WHEAT BUYING LOW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 14.—The action of the wheat market has put a check on demand for flour from millers in this section. Millers do not look for any great increase in flour buying unless the wheat market rises violently again or becomes stabilized at present levels.

GEORGIA LIVESTOCK

ATLANTA, Feb. 14.—The value of livestock in Georgia was placed today at $100,000,000 by the state crop reporting service, an increase of 10 per cent as compared with a year ago. The largest gains were made in the number of milch cows.

GULF COAST OIL

$15,000 Home and Girl Who Won It in Lighting Contest

Julia S. Groo of Portland, Oregon, the winner of the Home Lighting Contest in which 2,000,000 children took part and the $15,000 home that will be built for her in Portland.

A $15,000 Electrical Home, finished from top to bottom, built on her own lot in Portland, Oregon, will be the prize that Julia S. Groo will receive for her essay as first prize in the International Home Lighting Contest just concluded. Miss Groo, a winsome maid of eighteen, was adjudged winner from among two million school children in the United States and Canada who entered the contest, of which a million submitted essays for the prizes.

Local contests were held in 4,784 communities and the 45,000 winners of these contests had their essays submitted to the International Judges for the eleven grand prizes, of which the home was the first. The other prizes were ten scholarships of $300 to $1,200 and 1,000 distinguished essay medals and were awarded to children scattered over a wide area.

Besides the essay, the contestants were obliged to make lighting investigations and thoroughly study the subject of Home Lighting. Their essays were supposed to tell how they would light their own home, giving the specifications of wattage for each room.

The international judges of the Home Lighting Contest were William McAndrew, superintendent of schools, Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. William Brown Meloney, editor, The Delinquent; B. C. Forbes, editor, Forbes Magazine; Sarah L. Rhodes, principal, P. S. No. 23, Brooklyn, N. Y.; George D. Shephardson, professor of electrical engineering, University of Minnesota; George R. Anderson, professor of illuminating engineering, University of Toronto; and M. H. Aylesworth, executive manager of the National Electric Light Association, representing Franklin T. Griffith, president of that association, who was unable to be present.

Miss Groo's essay that won the prize follows:

"A Well Lighted Home"

"We do not keep a horse and buggy simply because our father had one. Instead, we use the new and more serviceable means of travel. The man in the office, the factory manager, the contractor, all continually strive to find labor saving devices. They do away with antiquated apparatus and replace it with machines for increasing output. Greater production by the individual is a demand of the times.

"Yet when these same men reach their homes the thoughts of advanced methods and convenience seem left behind. They retain lighting equipment which was probably considered the best when it was installed, but which is now obsolete because of the developments in the industry and the knowledge of proper lighting learned from experience and investigation.

"Careful thought was given to the lighting of our house and has resulted, I believe, in our having a well lighted home. It is well lighted since each fixture was selected to provide sufficient light where it might be needed. A center light gives general illumination, while portable lamps placed by easy chairs for reading or sewing bring the light directly where desired. A shade in harmony with the fixture and the room covers each bulb, but all are dense enough to prevent glare or eye strain. Some are glass, some are silk and some are parchment, each being adapted to its surroundings. The basement shades are metal.

"Small bulbs are used in decorative lamps to prevent annoying bright spots; frosted bulbs, where there is a possibility of their being seen with discomfort. Portable lamps are placed on each side of the mirror on the dressing table and brackets on each side of the bathroom mirror to illuminate the features on both sides, thus avoiding shadows. The shades prevent a bright light from being reflected into the eyes.

"Each room has bulbs in excess of one watt per square foot, and, since the walls are light, very little light is absorbed by them, thus avoiding the necessity of larger bulbs.

"The center fixture in the living room has two 150 watt bulbs. There are two floor lamps and one table lamp, each containing two 40 watt bulbs. The brackets over the mantel and two small decorative lamps each have a 15 watt bulb. Four single convenience outlets permit rearranging the furniture.

"A fixture with four 40 watt bulbs hangs 26 inches above the dining room table, while 15 watt candles are at each side of the buffet. A double convenience outlet is under the table and another by the buffet.

"Our kitchen is lighted by a 150 watt ceiling fixture with a 40 watt lamp over the sink. Appliances may be attached to a double convenience outlet.

"Each of the two bedrooms has a 40 watt lamp at the head of the bed. The three double convenience outlets make rearrangement of the furniture easy.

"The two 40 watt brackets by the bathroom mirror furnish sufficient light. The 40 watt center fixture is unnecessary because of the smallness of the room. The double convenience outlet is for appliances.

"The basement has 40 watt lamps in the trunk room, in front of the furnace and at the coal pile. A 100 watt lamp is over the laundry tubs. A double convenience outlet is available for appliances. Two 40 watt lamps should be placed over the work bench to prevent shadows on the work.

"Our long hall has a 40 watt ceiling fixture and a 40 watt bracket."

Country Districts Now Boast Scourge of Fox

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Application of the restrictions against fox-hunting in certain portions of England because of outbreaks of foot-and-mouth disease among horses has resulted in a veritable scourge of foxes.

The Meynell, Pytchley, Belvoir, Cottesmore and other hunts, covering a wide area, were forced to suspend; and, while farmers, armed with guns, made heavy inroads on the foxes of these districts, it is estimated that there are now more foxes in England than for many years.

Andrew Jackson Relic Donated To Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Feb. 14.—One of the latest relics received by the state department of archives, to go into the new State museum in the War Memorial building, is an old-fashioned wooden lock from one of the doors of the first house occupied by Andrew Jackson when he came to Tennessee. The house, known as the Dismuke place at Hadley's Bend, is being razed to make way for the erection of the Du Pont silk fibre plant.

Fish No Longer Poor Man's Meat in Britain

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Fish is no longer "the poor man's meat" in England. Retail prices of all kinds of sea food here, are exorbitantly high. For these prices housewives hold the middleman responsible.

Arabians Experiencing Coldest of Winters

BEIRUT, Arabia, Feb. 14.—Arabia is experiencing one of the most unusual winters in many years. Cold is intense and the desert between Bagdad and Palmer is under six inches of snow.

DOHENY OIL PLANS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—E. L. Doheny, who has just returned from Mexico, announced today that the Pan-American Co. would drill a well a week in that country this year, and would spend $15,000,000 in improvements, among which will be a new gasoline-production plant at Tampico.

RAIL VALUATION

ATLANTA, Feb. 14.—A valuation of $16,500,000 has been placed on the property of the local street railway company by engineers as a basis for rate readjustment. Jitneys and busses recently have been barred from streets on which the company operates cars.

WHEAT RECEIPTS

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 14.—Wheat receipts here for January totaled 3,343,200 bushels, as compared with 1,850,357 a year ago, and shipments were 2,926,950 bushels, compared with 1,512,230.

CITY VALUATION PROBLEM IS TOLD

Bonding Capacity to Be Cut
If Readjustments Made
In Assessments

Editor The Evening News.—The assessed valuation of the city of Glendale was $30,092,460 in 1923 and $47,061,355 in 1924, an increase of $16,968,895, or about 56 per cent. Great as was the growth of values in Glendale real estate in 1923-4, this increase of 56 per cent in valuation for taxable purposes has caused criticism and protest among Glendaleans without exception, and recently the Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee to take up with the proper authorities the matter of securing an equitable reduction of the assessed valuation of taxable property in the city of Glendale for the next fiscal year.

It has been conservatively estimated that the increase last year of approximately $17,000,000 was 50 per cent too high, or approximately $8,500,000 greater than the facts justified. If the Chamber of Commerce should be successful in obtaining an equitable reduction of assessed valuation it is manifest the bonding capacity of the city for school purposes would be reduced accordingly.

Bonding Capacity
The present bonding capacity for intermediate and elementary schools is $1,466,040. The proposed bond issue is $1,200,000, leaving a margin of only $266,040. If the bonds are approved at the election next Tuesday the margin of $266,040 would not only disappear but there would be a deficiency of several millions of dollars in our bonding capacity and there would be no market for the bonds.

Manifestly this condition confronts us: Either the Chamber of Commerce must abandon its effort to obtain a reduction of assessed valuations or the present program for the issuing of school bonds must fail. Failure to secure an equitable reduction in assessment would cause irreparable loss to every taxpayer in Glendale.

Failure of the bond issue would result in immediate action to present a businesslike program for financing every school necessity and the program would not again be framed in secret by one or two persons and approved by school boards in session behind closed doors with the public barred, representatives of the newspapers excluded and all avenues of publicity hermetically sealed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—With the storm definitely at an end for the time being at least, and continued fair weather in prospect, northern California was rapidly recovering from flood conditions today.

Police Find Large Sum In Secret Pocket

Joseph Ridley of Los Angeles was literally "sitting pretty" until he was brought to Glendale police headquarters shortly before noon today, charged with shoplifting, when it was found that in addition to a sweater stowed away in his trousers, he had hidden $439 in a secret leather pocket, sewed into the seat of the trousers.

The discovery was made by Detective Sergeant F. C. Williams of the Glendale police department, who searched the man after he had been brought in charged with stealing sweaters from A. Zeitlin's furnishings and shoe shop, 140 North Brand boulevard. An additional $200 was found in another pocket, police report, while another sweater was found secreted on his person. The man will be held in the city jail until Monday, when he will go before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court.

Deed to Brand Park Accepted by Council

bration was held at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway in honor of the completion of the line.

"The city of Glendale was the child of L. C. Brand's thought for years," he said, "and is now the fulfillment of his dream. L. C. Brand was ever a man of strict honesty and directness. The fine ideal of his integrity has been built into Glendale, the city he loved, and that ideal will continue to express itself here, through this gift which I now tender to the City Council for the public of this city."

Mayor Accepts

Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale accepted the gift on behalf of the council and of the city. On motion of Councilman S. A. Davis, second of Councilman MacBain, the resolution was adopted accepting the gift. This resolution was signed by A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, and sealed with the official seal of the city of Glendale.

Councilmen Davis and MacBain both spoke briefly, testifying to the outstanding generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Brand in providing the city with a permanent park. City Manager Virgil B. Stone, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow and City Clerk A. J. Van Wie also spoke, each expressing the gratitude of the city for this handsome gift.

Daniel Campbell, a lifelong friend of L. C. Brand, then spoke, saying:

"Mr. Brand had planned not to make this gift during his lifetime, but was finally prevailed upon to make it at this time. He is very happy today, over the enthusiastic manner in which the gift has been received by the entire city."

Suggests Monument

L. H. Wilson, chairman of the Glendale Park board, said:

"I do not think Mr. and Mrs. Brand could have done a finer thing. This is a magnificent monument to Glendale that he has bestowed upon the city. He must be a wonderful man, and Mrs. Brand must be a wonderful woman."

Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court urged that a fund be created to erect a monument in Brand park in honor of

MISS KINZEL WEDS BIG PINE MAN

Wedding Held at Home of Bride's Parents on
Wilson Avenue

At a pretty home wedding solemnized this morning, Saturday, February 14, 1925 at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Kinzel of 370 West Wilson avenue, Miss Helen Pauline Kinzel of 370 West Wilson avenue, and Lloyd Marvin Alcorn of Big Pine, Inyo county, were married. Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, performed the ring ceremony in the presence of eighteen relatives and friends of the two parties.

The Kinzel home was decorated with sweetpeas in pastel shades and carnations. The bride wore an afternoon dress of crepe roma trimmed with a collar of ecru lace and gold embroidery. She carried a shower bouquet of rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Glen Moser, of Inglewood, sister of the groom was matron of honor. She wore a pink silk dress. Glen Moser, of Inglewood, sister of the groom was matron of honor. The bride was given in marriage by her father, P. A. Kinzel.

Wedding Luncheon

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the Kopper Kettle tearoom, 323 North Brand boulevard, covers being arranged for eighteen. The table was decorated with sweetpeas in pastel shades. The place cards were gold wedding rings with miniature bridesmaids in pastel shades in the center.

Following the luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Alcorn left by motor for a trip to Arizona. They will be at home to their friends at Big Pine after February 25. The bride was presented with a new Studebaker "6" roadster as a gift from the groom.

Bride Only Daughter

Mrs. Alcorn is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Kinzel of 370 West Wilson avenue, and has resided in Glendale for the past two years, having come here from Bishop. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alcorn of Big Pine and is a salesman for the Standard Oil Co. at Big Pine.

Attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alcorn, of Big Pine, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Kinzel, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. George C. Keough, Miss Zella Harness, Miss Glen Munn and Herman Stahl, all of Yuma, Arizona. Miss Opie Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Moser of Inglewood, Clarence Thompson, Miss Marie Alcorn, sister of the groom of Fullerton, and Mrs. Jenks of Long Beach.

Because of poor railway and omnibus service in Greece recently sales of automobiles there have broken all records.

the donors, and declared he would contribute to such a fund. Others who spoke included J. A. Cole, Rev. J. M. Calderwood of the Congregational church and a member of the Glendale Park board; Lyman P. Clark, president of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association and a director of the Glendale "Merchants" association and Chamber of Commerce; W. B. Kelly, president of the Lions club; Frank L. Fox, president of the Kiwanis club; Dr. Jessie A. Russell, a member of the park board; L. T. Rowley, a member of the park board, and Dr. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of municipal recreation.

LAND OWNERS WIN WATER AGITATION

Edison Co. Restrained From
Impounding Flow Above
Herminghaus Estate

FRESNO, Feb. 14.—An injunction restraining the Southern California Edison Co. from further impounding of the water of the San Joaquin river on points above the 18,000 acres owned by the Herminghaus brothers was granted today in a decision handed down by Judge J. E. Wooley.

The suit will not halt the work now in progress on the tunnels but it does mean that any water run through the Florence lake tunnel, one of the greatest engineering achievements in the world, cannot be impounded but must be allowed to flow its natural course. Other injunctions asked by the Herminghaus heirs were denied.

DEATHS-FUNERALS

JOHN Q. SENG

Tribute to the late John Q. Seng has been paid by his comrades of the G. A. R. in the following resolution sent to The Glendale Evening News by Rev. C. R. Norton, R. Taylor and J. A. Thayer:

"We, the members of the N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., department of California and Nevada, feel deeply the loss we sustain in the departure of our comrades, and yet we are going one by one. During the last year eight of our number have crossed the 'Great Divide.' We are led to ask of ourselves 'who will be the next to be summoned into the presence of the Great Commander-in-Chief of us all.'"

"The last of our number to have been called was Comrade John Q. Seng." The way of his going suggests that our going may be sudden and unexpected. We should all be ready to answer the call whenever or however it may come to us.

"Comrade Seng was a courageous and faithful soldier, served his country well; as a citizen he was loyal and true; to his family he was kind and considerate."

"Resolved: First, in the departure of Comrade Seng we have lost a worthy and respected member of our post."

"Resolved: Second, That we feel keenly our loss in his departure."

"Resolved: Third, That we stand ready to aid in any way we can the family of our deceased comrade."

"Resolved: Fourth, That we do herein extend our sincere sympathy to the family of the departed comrade."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The roof of the White House is in an unsafe condition and unless replaced there is grave danger that it might collapse, the House committee on public buildings and grounds was informed today by Major Oscar M. Solbert, the officer in charge.

Despite the danger, President Coolidge himself is blocking an appropriation for this work because of reluctance to spend the money, the committee was told.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Opera Program

"The Bohemian Girl," well-known opera from the pen of William Michael Balfe, Irish composer, featured the program yesterday afternoon of the music department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. Frank Arnold, as chairman of program, gave a resume of the opera. Miss Veda Knapp assisted as reader. Mrs. Stanley Searle was accompanist. Parts from the opera were sung by Miss Elizabeth Mottorn as Arline; Mrs. Arnold as the queen; Mildred C. Jackson as the father; and J. Arthur Myers as Thaddeus. All the singers were highly complimented on their work. In addition to the selections from the opera, Mrs. Arnold sang "To the Unknown Soldier" and the quartet sang the soldiers' song from "Faust." Tea was served by the hostesses, Mesdames Edwin Clephas, C. H. Bird and Nathan Rigdon. Mrs. Roberta T. Young, curator, invited the public to attend the open meeting on Friday afternoon, February 27, when the San Carlos Opera Co. will give selections from "Madame Butterfly" and "Andre Chénier." The program is being arranged by Miss Marguerite Goetz.

Hostesses Today

Miss Bessie L. Field of 538 North Louise street, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Frederick Alden Field, entertained this afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock with a Valentine affair. Cupids, hearts and arrows were decorative features. A Valentine supper was served at 4:30 o'clock. The table was decorated with red sweetpeas and roses, with favor baskets and Valentines at the places. During the afternoon "Two Hearts that Beat as One" and the writing of telegrams using the word Valentine as an inspiration, were diversions. Invited guests were Mesdames Joseph Wilson, Clifford Riggs, Harry D. Case, Harry James of Glendale; Mrs. C. G. Cox of Pasadena; Mrs. Charles A. K. Oliver of Hollywood; Misses Lulu and Florence Bixby of Pasadena; Misses Anabel McCallan, Susan Thomas, Jennie Belle Brown of Glendale.

Birthday Party

Celebrating her husband's birthday, Mrs. Don C. Lindley entertained last night with a Valentine card party at their home, 262 West Lomita avenue. Rooms of the Lindley home were decorated with Valentine favors. Red carnations were the flowers used. Table decorations were large red hearts with gold arrows. The large birthday cake was decorated with small red hearts and gold arrows and red candles. Three tables were arranged for five hundred. Mrs. Dick Whittaker and J. T. Beaver were awarded prizes for high score. At midnight the guests were seated at the table for supper. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Masson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Neilsen, all of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Whittaker and Miss Elizabeth Fisher.

Old Friends Meet

Mrs. A. S. Cook of 522 East Acacia avenue was hostess at an informal gathering yesterday afternoon at her home. Her guests were former residents of North Dakota and Winnipeg, Canada. A pleasant afternoon was spent in talking over old times. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Guests were: Mrs. E. A. Wilkins and Mrs. A. A. Rogers, former residents of Winnipeg, Canada; Mrs. Louis Gratias, Mrs. R. C. Francis, former residents of North Dakota; and Mrs. Mary Ellsworth of Butte, Montana.

The Women's Missionary society of Grand View Community church held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sarah Moyer, 1110 Sonora street. Eighteen women were present at

Cigaret Plus Dynamite Kills Four Passengers

BUCHAREST, Feb. 14.—A cigarette, carelessly tossed into a package of dynamite in the compartment of a passenger train, cost four lives near here today. A mining engineer who was carrying the package of explosive, placed it on the seat beside him. Another passenger flicked the lighted cigarette. Twenty other passengers were injured.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Speculative stocks in every division of the market were offered for sale in good volume today and the market developed decided heaviness shortly after the opening. With the exception of American Can, East Iron Pipe, Air Reduction, Maxwell Motor and a few of the low-priced industrials the trend of the market was toward lower price levels, with the steel, equipment and some of the oil shares leading the way.

The movement was due entirely to technical conditions within the stock market and appeared to have little relation to outside developments. The weekly trade reviews confirmed the reports of the continuance of increased activity in trade and business; railroad earnings of class one roads for December showed an increase of 24.2 per cent over the same period in 1923; higher prices for crude oil and export gasoline were announced prior to the opening of the market.

Further reaction from the very unfavorable annual report of the Republic Iron-Steel company, was seen in the large offerings of independent steel stocks. Republic lost three points and sold at a new low of 53 1/2, compared to its 1925 high at 64 1/2. Gulf States lost more than a point; Crucible, which opened at 72 1/2, sold down to 71; U. S. Steel was also reactionary.

The oil stocks failed to hold their ground, though recessions were mostly fractional and good buying appeared for all stocks offered at slightly lower prices from Friday's close. Atlantic Refining, Royal Dutch and a few of the Standard dividend oil shares were an exception to the general rule and commanded fractionally higher prices. The railroad stocks were inactive rather than reactionary, as also were the equipments, though Baldwin Locomotive slid down more than two points.

Trading in Real Estate, Southern Railway and Lehigh Valley absorbed some selling at fractionally lower prices.

Cast Iron Pipe was inactive but higher selling from 230 to 235 in small volume. American Can made a new high record at 177 and sold in good volume above 176.

Strength in Air Reduction, Maxwell motors common and preferred, Savage Arms, International of Combustion Engineers had a few of the specialty stocks was the feature of the constructive side of the market.

The grain markets opened steadily with considerable variation in prices of different grains in different markets. Liberty bonds were firm, cotton reactionary.

Stock sales today, 793,800 shares; bonds, $7,174,800. Stock call for the week, 8,688,000 shares; bonds, $7,743,600.

CHICAGO WHEAT

By International News Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—All grains closed the short session higher today. Wheat closed 4 1/4 to 4 1/2 cents up; corn closed 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents up; oats closed 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents up. Provisions were strong.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S VALENTINES

Uncle Wiggily was hopping down the woodland path one day, when, just ahead of him, he saw Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, hopping on tip-toes up the stoop of the house where Brighteyes the little guinea-pig girl lived.

"Now I wonder what trick Sammie is going to play?" said the bunny rabbit gentleman to himself. He saw Sammie drop a bundle of white birch bark on the steps of the pen where Brighteyes lived, and then, after ringing the bell, Sammie ran away. "This can't be Halloween," said Mr. Longears. "I wonder what it is?"

Then he saw Brighteyes open the door, pick up the white birch bark and the little guinea pig girl whistled.

"Oh, it's a valentine! I wonder who sent it?"

"Ho! Ho! I should have remembered that this was St. Valentine's day!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily to himself. "That's what Sammie was doing—leaving a valentine for Brighteyes. Well, I must send some valentines myself. I'll get a funny one for Nurse Jane, and also a pretty one. And I'll get one for Mrs. Twisty-tail, the lady pig."

So saying, Uncle Wiggily went happily hop to the valentine shop. But while he was there, off in the woods the Bob Cat and the Fox were talking in the den of the Fox, trying to think of a way to catch the rabbit gentleman. Then the Fox looked at the clock and barked:

a little cold to catch the bunny," barked the Fox.

Then, looking as much like Nannie Wagtail as he could, with icicle horns on his ears, the Bob Cat, with a piece of birch bark, pretending it was an icicle, went up Uncle Wiggily's steps.

The Bunny had just come back from the store with his valentines. Nurse Jane was out shopping, so the rabbit took his valentines inside to write names on them. And, finding his bungalow very hot, for Nurse Jane had made a roaring fire in the stove, Uncle Wiggily opened the outside door to cool the place off.

And just then the Bob Cat tiptoed up the steps. Uncle Wiggily heard him coming and thought for a moment it was the goat girl.

"Hello, Nannie!" cried the bunny. "Have you a valentine for Nurse Jane?" But just then the hot air, rushing out of the bungalow, melted the icicle horns on the Bob Cat. The icicles turned to water and the water ran in the bad chap's eyes.

"Oh, ker-fool!" he sneezed. And then Uncle Wiggily knew who he was.

"Get away from here, you bad Bob Cat, trying to look like Nannie!" cried the rabbit, and he slammed the door, pinching the bad chap's nose.

"Foolish again!" growled the Bob Cat, wiping the icicle water from his eyes and limping away. Then the bunny left his valentines and had jolly good fun. And if the codfish cake doesn't try to blow the postman's whistle, and make the stamp think it's Christmas, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily cleaning a window.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Feb. 14.—Reports from a reliable source state that the state highway, Michigan avenue, which connects San Fernando and La Canada, this summer will be widened with an additional five feet of paving. This addition will make the pavement twenty feet wide. Indications are that the work will be done this summer. The new portions of the paving will be eight inches thick. Indications that the width of Michigan avenue will eventually be increased to ninety feet between curbs is seen in the refusal of high way commission officials to grant permits to property owners to lay curbs or sidewalks nearer than thirty-one feet to the center of the boulevard.

A survey for the continuation of Los Robles avenue, Tujunga, through the Begue ranch to connect with Honolulu avenue at La Crescenta has been made. Phil Begue, owner of the ranch, has not yet decided the right-of-way and when he will do so depends on future developments. By connecting this link with others and joining Manzanita drive in Tujunga a new and very scenic drive will offer a route along the base of the Verdugo hills south of Tujunga and Sunland.

Plans for improving the Tujunga school playgrounds have been prepared and the trustees expect to carry out the work at once.

Miss Virginia Fleming and Peter J. Derjardin were married Wednesday and will make their home on Mr. Derjardin's poultry ranch, Sycamore street and Washington lane. Miss Fleming was among the contestants in a popularity contest held last summer by the American Legion, Post 250. Mr. Derjardin was publicity manager for the contest and it was at that time they met. He is sergeant-at-arms of the local legion post.

Permanent organization of the Tujunga Service club has been effected with Dr. Stella Conner, president; Dr. Edgar W. Parker, vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Benedict, secretary; M. E. Morgan, treasurer; E. B. Day, auditor. A constitution and by-laws were adopted. The Service club represents practically all clubs and organizations of Tujunga and Sunland and will function as a charity dispensary for relief work among the needy of the two communities. Contributions of cash, clothing, books, food and household goods will be received at and distributed from headquarters established in the rear of the

THE GATEWAY

Walter Hiers, who plays the Pullman porter in Rupert Hughes production of "Excuse Me," which is coming to the Gateway theatre Sunday, has found that fatness is his fortune.

Hiers was born and educated in Georgia, and during his school days, was often called upon to take part in amateur theatricals. "That put the notion into my head," says the fat man, "so when time came for me to choose a vocation, the stage was it and I went into vaudeville."

But soon the picture claimed him and he has been working under Kilgus for the past six years. Though Hiers is a southerner by birth, and though he has a real Dixie accent, he has never played a blackface role until he engaged in that of the porter in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy of Major Hughes' play.

John Muir school, 224 pupils 9,157.77
Joaquin Miller school, 162 pupils 5,663.00
Abraham Lincoln school, 135 pupils 3,423.67
Luther Burbank school, 229 pupils 2,995.01

Some of the pupils are saving for college, others for music, still others for a "rainy day." One hundred and seventy-five new books have just been received at the Burbank Public Library. Mrs. C. M. DOBINSON PLAYERS

Tonight's performance at the Playhouse theatre will mark the conclusion of Carl Gantvoort's special engagement with the Dobinson Players for the run of "Wedding Bells," the brilliant comedy, which also closes tonight. Mr. Gantvoort, who is one of America's foremost operatic baritones, was already well known to music lovers of this city and Southern California before he was booked for his present engagement, but his reappearance at the Playhouse has proved a strong drawing card.

It is reported that he is the first of several famous artists who will feature the Dobinson Players' offerings from time to time.

DYNAMITERS WIN IN LAST MINUTE

Berman Gets Goal for Locals
When Score Tied; Beat
Citrus 20 to 17

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Amid the shrill shrieks of a couple hundred co-eds and the hoarse shouts of as many high school sheiks the Glendale heavyweight casaba tossers yesterday took their "casual game" of Citrus in one of the most tense and exciting exhibitions of the hard-wood sport ever staged in Glendale. The score was 20 to 17.

Coach Apollo Pierce's men were playing a game of their lives, but they were up against another good crew. The Citrus gang was right on the job and kept the locals on the jump to maintain their scanty lead. The Dynamiters started blasting in the opening episode and by the snappy dribbling and an' shooting of Reed Stearnman, and the foul tossing of Raber Berman, managed to get six markers while their opponents were able to shove the old melon into the hoop but once.

The second quarter saw the scorekeepers chalk up another two for the Lemons while the Dynamiters got six, the score standing twelve to four in favor of the home team at the end of the half. In the second quarter Berman forged ahead as high point man by tossing two field goals. Hardey contributed one.

Citrus Opens Up
The Citrus men began to pep matters up in the third quarter and were gathering steam as they went. This period Rusman and Shiffler split with a goal apiece. Hardey counterbalanced the Citrus scoring with four markers of his own, on a field goal and foul throws.

The Dynamiters decreased their registering visibly in the fourth quarter. By this time the Lemons were traveling at top speed and it was all the Dynamiters could do to pull the game from the fire by keeping the pill from bobbing on the backboard. During this period the excitement reached the high water mark, the boys began to move like lightning and when red met yellow the fur flew. Mad scrambles, wherein football ability helped to a certain degree, and Greek tumbling matches prevailed throughout the fourth quarter. The crowd shrieked each time the boys rolled on the floor in the scramble for the ball. With but four minutes to play the score stood 17 to 12 in favor of the Lemons. Hardey started crashing down the court and were beginning to get deadly within range of the Glendale goal.

Berman Wins Game
At this point Berman got the ball, dribbled down the field, and leaping into the air under the yellow basket, dropped the ball nicely into the netting. The crowd raised the roof. The Lemons got rougher and rougher, three fouls were called in the last two minutes but there was so much excitement that only one went in.

This victory gives the Dynamiters a good chance to win the league pennant. If either Citrus or South Pasadena beats Alhambra the locals will cop the flag. The Dynamiters play their last game Friday at Covina with the Colts.

The lineups:
Glendale (20) Citrus (17)
(4) Stearnman L. F. R. Rudman (6)
(8) Hardey F. L. Keulas (2)
(3) Berman C. (1)
(2) Zaun L. G. R. Hawes (6)
(9) Thompson L. G. Shiffler (2)
Score by quarters:
Glendale 6 6 5 3-20
Citrus 2 2 4 9-17
Referee—Evans.

Stepping along at a fast gait and allowing superior team work, the Covina preps took the Monrovia five into camp, 18 to 8, yesterday on the loser's court. The outcome was never in doubt after the first five minutes of play. Arnel and Saersur were the highest individual scorers.

In a tight, closely-contested game, the Alhambra high school basketball team defeated South Pasadena yesterday. The game was exceptionally well played from a defensive standpoint, few baskets being made. Mullins and Bowers starred. The lineups:
Alhambra 12; Bowers (5) F.; Rhodes (4) F.; Roche, C.; Mills (2) G.; Slinker, G.
South Pasadena—8; Mullins (6) F.; Fuit (2) F.; King (1) C.; McIntosh, G.; Bowers, G.
Referee—Barber.

ENSEMBLE COATS

PALM BEACH, Feb. 14.—There is a certain fullness to the skirts of the ensemble coats being worn here which is not a flare and not produced by godets, pleats or folds. They call it a "swing" and it takes a tailor of real ability to produce it without sacrificing the softness of the woolen fabrics of which the coats are made.

CLEAR COMPLEXIONS

The smoothness and clarity of the complexions of Mohammedan women are ascribed to the fact that their regular observances necessitate bathing their faces many times each day with cold water.

When it Comes to Flies---

BABY DOLL" JACOBSON believes in swatting them as well as gathering them in. He played with the St. Louis Browns last season and he grabbed off 488 swats last year that opposing batsmen intended for run getters.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News

He's a great, big fellow. Stands six feet tall. Carries a pair of shoulders like Hercules sported. Weighs 200 pounds. Has rugged features and a firm chin.

And they call him "Baby Doll," simply because the name is so incongruous.

That's Big Bill Jacobson, reticent and modest outfielder of the St. Louis Browns.

No one would ever suspect Bill of being a speed merchant in his capacity of outfielder for the St. Louis club. There is no dash to his play. He seems to adopt a lumbering gait in the outer garden.

But the official records of 1924 list him as leading the American league in shagging flies. He caught 488 flies of various heights and velocity last year.

Which shows that statistics, often too-hooded by the experts, prove more reliable than form in placing the outfielders.

Jacobson, aware that he is not the fleet-footed ball hawk that Cobb, Speaker, Eddie Roush and other more talked-of center fielders are, has made his head aid his feet.

The others, while playing a heady game of course, play also with the knowledge that their legs will carry them to almost any part of the field in time to capture a ball if they misjudge the batter. Jacobson has made a finer art of the study of batters.

In addition to playing right or left for the southpaw and right-hand hitters, Bill also has catalogued batters from the distance angle.

Bill has found that the slugger who hopes to kill the ball will either strike out or clout it a mile, so he plays back. When Bill figures the hit and run sign is out, he plays in, regardless of whom the batter is. He figures that the batter, in his desire to go through with the play, will keep the ball on the ground, which means that if it gets past the infield it will be a short out-field drive.

All of which shows that "Baby Doll" has been studying the game he plays.

START FOR CAMP

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Trail blazers for the main detachment of players who later will go to St. Petersburg, Fla., a party of five Yankee ball tossers left yesterday to join Babe Ruth for the annual boiling out at Hot Springs. The party includes Everett Scott, Wally Schang, Sam Jones, Steve O'Neill and Urban Shocker. The last two named were added to the roster during the off-season. O'Neill was obtained from Boston and Shocker from St. Louis.

RULE ON FIGHTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—The California Boxing commission is clothed with supreme authority over boxing in California, under the initiative amendment, according to an opinion of Attorney-General Webb. It has sole jurisdiction over boxing, sparring and wrestling contests and local authorities no longer have the power to regulate or control such exhibitions, the attorney-general held.

CASEYS TO PLAY OAKLAND SUNDAY

State Championship Will Be Decided Tomorrow In Northern City

Intent upon winning the state championship in the K. C. league, and bringing back to Glendale the $275 trophy cup awarded by state officials of the lodge, members of the local Casey baseball team left Glendale last night for Oakland, where the titular game will be played tomorrow afternoon.

Accompanying the team were forty or more rooters, members of the local K. C. council, who have followed the team to victory through the present season. The team finished on top for the first half of the Southern California K. C. league schedule with a clean slate and the members intend to add another scalp to their belts tomorrow.

The team and rooters will reach Oakland this morning, and this afternoon the players will take a workout on the Oakland Pacific Coast ball fields, where tomorrow's titular tilt will be staged. Tonight the visitors will be the guests of the Oakland and the team will be at the hotel, and tomorrow night a banquet will be held for the Glendalians. The team will have its headquarters at Hotel Oakland.

Bonnelly to Pitch
Dick Bonnelly, whose hurling ability is well known to many Glendale baseball fans by reason of his work here during the days of the old White Sox team, will be on the mound for the local Caseys. Myers will be on the receiving end, while McDonald will be the pitcher in reserve.

The infield positions will be held down by Gillespie at first base, Cryan at second, O'Shea at third and H. Doll shortstop. In the outer garden will be Harry Manush, manager of the team, in center; Cozington in left field, and Seiser in right field.

M. Doll and R. Doll will be utility players, with Oliver as utility catcher. Thirteen men are in the team, which left here last night.

BOWLING SCORES

The Brown drug bowlers dropped three games to the Psenner Brothers' team and the Red Feathers were overwhelmed by the Glendale Bootery in two Mercantile league matches played last night at Recreation alleys.

Fisher of the electricians rolled high individual score with 224, although Sands of the shoemen ran him a close second with 222. Fisher also carried off high total with 607. The scores:

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Feb. 14.—The Chamber of Commerce is considering a plan for raising and spending $20,000 to tell the tourists in Southern California the advantages of this community as a place in which to live and do business. A. B. Pier, who two years ago helped put over the Chamber of Commerce membership drive, is the promoter of the scheme. R. C. Blackmer has been made chairman of a committee to consider the proposal and he has selected as fellow members L. B. Wilson, K. W. Hunt and W. L. Miller. Further action will await the call of Mr. Blackmer.

At the last meeting of the Congregational church it was decided by a unanimous vote, after several speakers had been heard, that the resignation of Rev. E. Morgan Isaac, pastor, would not be accepted, and a committee was appointed to wait on Mr. Isaac to see what arrangements could be made to retain him in his present capacity.

Page Noll, well-known local business man and president of the Merchants' association, will leave on Monday with his family, aboard the Finland, for the Panama canal and the Bermuda islands, thence proceeding on up the Atlantic coast to New York.

The San Rafael Hills Chapter, D. A. R., will hold an open meeting the afternoon of February 16, from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Arion Putnam, 1935 Hill drive. A short program will be given, and there will be an exhibition of water-color paintings of California wild flowers and also a loan exhibition of relics of Colonial days. Two little girls, Barbara Allen and Marjorie Putnam, will dance the minuet in costume.

Mrs. Wm. H. Wilhemy of 5163 Rockland avenue has enjoyed a visit for the past week of her mother, Mrs. Whit Rozelle of Pacific Beach.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The skeleton in baseball's family closet will be tenderly laid to rest within the next 48 hours and thereafter will rattle no more. Judge Landis will officiate at the obsequies and final. He will arrive in this city on Sunday morning and at the brief conference with the district attorney a decision will be reached as to whether Jimmy O'Connell shall be punished for his part in the affair or permitted to go his future way unmolested.

Landis' attitude has been forecast as one of tolerance and leniency toward O'Connell, whose loss in food and honor has been deemed sufficient to cover his offense. If Landis says the word, the skeleton will have rattled its last.

As matters stand, the district attorney has let it be known that he will be guided by Landis in his future actions, if any. He stands ready to indict O'Connell before the grand jury and prosecute his extradition from California. But Landis will not say the word because the man he is after is not Jimmy O'Connell. He is an unnamed and unidentified somebody who was so much smarter than O'Connell that he covered his trail perfectly, leaving James holding the well-known bag. It seems unlikely that the man in question, if he exists at all, will ever be apprehended.

With the start of another season, there will hardly be a headstone to mark the scandal's dishonored grave unless Cory Dolan revives the issue temporarily with a civil suit for reinstatement. I am pleased to doubt that he will. Dolan, however, will make formal application to Landis for reinstatement, but it is almost certain that he will be greeted with a refusal as flat as a tailor's iron.

AUTO TRADE BETTER

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14.—Automobile production is generally improved since the automobile show here. One company declares January business was 30 percent ahead of January, 1924, and orders this month are at a larger rate than a year ago.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

By Special Leased Wire to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The idea of erecting a $100,000 baseball monument in Potomac Park, Washington, has been given up because of opposition in congress, but the idea of erecting such a monument somewhere still persists.

The national capital was an eminently suitable location for such a monument it is too bad that plan had to be abandoned. New York has been suggested as a site because the earliest history of the national game centers around this city. But the question has been raised whether, if New York were chosen, Chicago, or some other American league city, might not feel slighted.

So far as American league history goes—and the monument was an American idea—Chicago would be a very suitable place for a monument. A site in Grant Park, near the immense stadium which has been erected, would be most fitting. The American league was born in Chicago, if it was born anywhere, and a baseball memorial on the shore of Lake Michigan would be seen by practically every visitor to Chicago, and somehow be typical of the breezy western atmosphere which always has made baseball in that part of the United States a mighty democratic and popular game.

A monument erected in New York might be set in Central Park but then it would be removed from an athletic environment and would lose its national significance. Such a monument in Chicago, in the park which is the very heart of the city, would be a strong appeal in the west, which considers itself ahead of the east, at least so far as downright love of baseball is concerned.

Three players have been selected by the committee on selection of the American league as worthy of having their names engraved on the monument, which was designed to perpetuate the memory of the great game's greatest players. They are George Sisler of St. Louis, Babe Ruth of New York and Walter Johnson of Washington. Sisler and Johnson would go well with a monument erected in the middle west, for they are types of the west. And Ruth, even though he is a Marylander by birth, would have no objection to being enrolled in Illinois as the mogul of all swatmen.

The National league, having just begun its selection of valuable players, has only one name on the roll. That is the name of Dazzy Vance, the Brooklyn pitcher. The National has never shown any inclination, however, to go into the art gallery business and instead of building a $100,000 monument has presented $1,000 in cash to the lucky player. Of course that appeals to the player, although it does not establish any condition of permanency relative to national distinction.

It is a little difficult to see just why the gentlemen of Congress were so strong against the idea of having a baseball monument in the capital. The men whom it is proposed to commemorate are typical of the greatest athletic game in the world, a game in which every congressman is proud along about world series time—particularly if one of the contestant teams hails from the congressman's home section.

But in any event, Washington, full as it is of monuments is not going to hold the baseball shaft. It looks as though Chicago or New York might.

five children, three dying in infancy and two still living. Professor Edward D. Soper of Evansville, Ind., and Miss E. M. Soper of Glendale. Wonderful changes in both the United States and Japan have been seen by the Sopers, the greater change having been noted in Japan in the past fifty-two years.

In 1873 the Japanese had just started their Bible school and national banking system and their postoffice department had been modeled after those of the United States. They modeled their navy after that of England and their army after France's.

Rev. Soper states that after the Germans defeated the French in 1871, as soon as the terms of empan of officers expired, Japan employed German officers to teach and train their army officers. The Japanese have now reached the point where they employ few foreigners if any to instruct them in naval or army affairs. They still employ a few foreign teachers in their higher public schools, he says.

Ninety-seven per cent of the Japanese children from 6 to 14 years of age are now required by law to attend public or private schools. Fifty-two years ago there were only 150 Protestant Christians in all Japan and now there are nearly 200,000, states Rev. Soper. Rev. Soper has one brother and sister living, Eugene Soper of St. Joseph, Missouri and Mrs. Isabel Polkhorst of Washington, D. C.

DODE BERGOT IS WINNER IN FIGHT

Seattle Welterweight Upsets
Dope at Hollywood by Beating Schlaiffer

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—Wading into one of the most dangerous sluggers in the business, young Dode Bergot, Seattle welterweight, upset the dope at the Hollywood American Legion stadium, when he took the decision over Morrie Schlaiffer of Omaha in their ten round scrap there last night.

Referee Larry McGrath was greeted with howls of applause from the packed stadium when he lifted the hand of the Seattle boy at the end of the long milling, in which Bergot did the unexpected by standing toe to toe with his more experienced foe and slugging it out.

An accidental low punch in the first round almost spoiled the scrap. Schlaiffer landed a left hook below the belt and Bergot doubled up in pain. It was clear that he was badly hurt but the plucky lad merely asked the referee to take time out for thirty seconds, and then resumed the fight, game but weak.

Bergot took a terrific lacing in the fourth when the Omaha slugger worked him over with everything he had. Bergot had easily taken the first three rounds by the use of his clever right. He grabbed the decision by his great showing in the final round when he slugged it out with Schlaiffer.

Records Smashed at Women's Tank Tourney

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 14.—Agnes Geraghty of New York broke her own world's record in the 220-yard breast stroke national championship here yesterday afternoon. She negotiated the distance in 3 minutes 27 3/4 seconds. Her previous record was 3 minutes 30 2/5 seconds.

Martina Norelius, Olympic champion at 400 meters, won the 500-yard national championship event. Ethel McGarry was second and Helen Wainwright, the title holder for that distance, third. Time, 6 minutes 49 seconds.

Gertrude Ederle, New York, broke her own world's record in the 75 yard race. Time 45 1/5 seconds, one-fifth of a second below her previous record.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—It looks extremely doubtful whether Cornell will be able to hold her annual spring day regatta this season. This is because agreements with Harvard, Yale and Princeton for alternating regattas will compel the Ithaca sweep swimmers to visit these institutions this year.

The above are colleges that have usually figured in the spring day race, that is to say one or another of them, and in view of schedules already arranged by other rowing institutions it is difficult to see what crew could be brought to Cornell on the day of the Vernal carnival.

This is rather unfortunate, in fact, distinctly so. Spring day is one of the great social and sporting events of the eastern intercollegiate calendars. It occurs in the late May when the hills that overlook Cayuga are oiled with verdure and the bloom of flowers pervades the air. The undergraduates give a circus which in its various manifestations covers acres of ground.

There is a baseball game, usually with Yale, and then later in the afternoon comes the intercollegiate regatta on Cayuga lake. It is the gem of the day and rivals the annual four mile race on the Thames at New London in point of color and enthusiasm.

Whether crews from some sister university can make arrangements to come to Ithaca or not the annual regatta among eight representing the various schools of the university will be held and in this itself will be sufficient to end the carnival with a fine blaze of local interest at least.

Jack Ryan's retirement from Wisconsin was forecast by the writer. It came about simply because Ryan's business interests in Milwaukee have grown to be too important to admit of his giving his full time to Wisconsin football. No doubt several institutions in the west will be eager to avail themselves of Ryan's part time services.

NEW LIGHTS READY TO FLASH TONIGHT

Mayor Robinson Will Throw
Switch for Two Miles
Of New Ornaments

As Mayor Spencer Robinson throws the switch that illuminates the new ornamental lighting system along two miles of Glendale avenue at 7 o'clock tonight, a great line of automobiles, headed by a band playing martial music, will parade between the long rows of lights the full length of the avenue in celebration of the event. The parade will end at Glendale avenue and Broadway, from whence the merry-makers will go to the second floor of the new Hotel Glendale, where further celebration, with speeches, music and other activities will take place.

C. W. Ingledue, president of the Glendale Advancement association, will speak briefly. Other talks will be made by Mayor Robinson and five representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, President D. H. Smith, Vice-president George B. Karr, Secretary Howard I. Wood, L. H. Wilson, chairman of the industrial committee and J. H. Randall, representing the northwest.

The committee in charge of the affair includes W. M. Mills, chairman; Mrs. Mabel L. Tigh, F. W. McIntyre and Mrs. Emma Burkett.

L. A. Rejects Site Near City for Incinerator

Reports circulated today to the effect that the Los Angeles incinerator plant would be located in the bed of the Los Angeles river adjacent to Los Feliz bridge, were discredited by the Los Angeles city clerk's office.

"No action was taken by the City Council yesterday on the incinerator site, the matter being carried over for one week," City Clerk Robert Dominguez said. "Only one site has been eliminated to date, that is the one in the Arroyo Seco. There is no indication, however, that the Los Feliz site will receive any further consideration. The council favors none of the sites which have been proposed."

Action by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will be taken against location of the incinerator in the proximity of Glendale, it is declared.

Local Officials Speak To Canadian Tourists

City Councilman Harry G. MacBain and Vice-President George B. Karr of the Chamber of Commerce represented Glendale at the joint Canadian and American Tourists' field day and picnic held in Los Angeles today. An official address of welcome to the tourists in behalf of Southern California was given by Mr. Karr, when the picnicers assembled at Exposition park at 12:30 o'clock. Councilman MacBain spoke prior to the program of games and athletic contests.

Valentine Party Held By Pi Beta Sorority

A Valentine luncheon was given yesterday by members of the Pi Beta Phi sorority at the home of Mrs. Perce Curtis, 1351 North Maryland avenue. Mrs. Curtis, Dr. Laura J. Brown and Mrs. Besie Omons were hostesses. The luncheon celebrated the birthdays of Mrs. Frank C. Ayars and Mrs. G. H. Lyon. Sewing was done for a day nursery. Reports were given on the Pi Beta Phi settlement in Tennessee.

Watches made abroad and bought in England last year numbered more than 4,000,000.

Helpful Hints About Home On Building Page

Thinking about building or buying a home? Want to know what kind of material to use, all about plans, where to locate, probable costs, and numerous other details? Then turn to the two building pages that appear in today's issue of The Glendale Evening News. These building pages, filled with helpful hints for home owners and those contemplating owning a home, are regular features in The Glendale Evening News on Saturday. Another feature page today is the puzzle page, where valuable prizes are offered by merchants for solving puzzles that appear in connection with their advertisements. Sharpen up your pencils and wits and win some of the prizes the merchants offer.

Founders' Night
With every school and Parent-Teacher association in the city lending hearty cooperation, Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations is to hold one of the most inspiring "Founders' Night" celebrations, Wednesday night at Harvard High school, that the local organization has ever sponsored.

Mrs. L. D. Torrey, program chairman of the Federation, enlisted the aid of program chairmen of the various associations. They worked out a program for which each school will furnish entertainment.

Songs, music and dances of the various nations will be presented, ending with a patriotic sketch of the United States. Entertainment to be furnished will be: Acaia school, Irish music and dances; Broadway, saxophone soloist; Central, Chinese dance; Ferritos, Scotch; Colorado, French; Doran, violinist; Continibus, A. R. Burton vocalist; Grand View, reader; Magnolia, reader; Pacific, American; Glendale Intermediate, minuet; Wilson Intermediate, vocalist; Glendale Union High school, girl's glee club.

Mrs. J. Wesley Lee of Long Beach, president of First District P-T-A., will be guest of honor. She will give a greeting. Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of Glendale Federation, will also speak. After the program Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Spradling, past presidents of the associations will light the twenty-eight candles on the large birthday cake. As each candle is lighted a bit of P-T-A. history will be given.

A nominal admission charge will be made. Proceeds are to go to the extension fund of the national organization.

Members of the high school Parent-Teacher association are to be guests Wednesday of the Girls' League at Harvard High school. Mothers are invited to come to school as early as they desire. At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon mothers of both Broadway and Harvard will meet in the school auditorium. Mrs. W. R. Wichert will direct a short business meeting. The program to be presented by the Girls' League will include a patriotic address by a faculty member, and musical and dancing numbers by Lenore Hartline, Julia Pelly, Elly Christensen, Janet Larsen and Marguerite Anderson. Tea will be served in the domestic science department. Executive board members are to meet in the cafeteria at Harvard High school at 2:15 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. Wichert desires a full attendance of the board as matters pertaining to the school bond election will be taken up.

DEED PROPERTY FOR ROAD IN ATWATER

Last Two Strips Are Given By Tropico
Potteries and Payne's Nursery;
Start When Bridge Finished

The last two dedications necessary for the widening of Los Feliz road have been made by the Tropico Potteries Inc., and Payne's Nursery, owning the property immediately adjoining the potteries. A depth of 20 feet along this frontage has been deeded to the city for the widening of the road to 100 feet. No further obstacles remain in the way of the widening and the work will be started upon completion of the Los Feliz bridge.

Efforts to have the trees along the road spared when the street is widened have been made by a number of property owners. It has been suggested to the City Council that a double roadway be built with the trees remaining to separate them. This would necessitate the routing of fast traffic in the center road and slower vehicles over the pavement on the outside of the trees.

Property owners and merchants along Los Feliz road have also asked the city to do the paving work parcel at a time so that the entire boulevard will not be torn up and closed to traffic during the whole period required for the work. This request will be completed with it, it is believed.

Plan Masonic Temple

Plans for a Masonic temple in the Atwater district were announced today. The building will occupy the property on Garden avenue immediately adjoining the Shugart building now nearing completion at the corner of Glendale boulevard. Frank H. Shugart is the owner of the property and will erect the building. There will be store rooms on the ground floor, according to present plans, with lodge rooms and auditorium with a seating capacity of 300 persons. Ante-rooms and kitchen facilities will also be provided. The announcement of plans for the temple were made through the building committee composed of P. E. Lipscomb, H. W. Manning and Fred H. Chapman.

Boy's Arm Is Broken

Edward Murling, 9 years old, of Perlit avenue, suffered a broken arm when he lost his footing and fell into the sewer pipe ditch being dug north of Los Feliz road near Glendefiz boulevard. Edward was playing with a number of other youngsters who rushed to his aid and pulled him out of the pit. The child fell a distance of more than 20 feet.

Tells Missionary Work

Rev. C. Hunt, for 30 years a missionary in China, was the guest of the Women's Missionary Society of the Neighborhood Christian church Thursday afternoon. Rev. Hunt and Mrs. Hunt told of their labors in China and displayed native costumes and sang Chinese songs.

"Casey" Jones, evangelist, preached his second sermon at the church last night. A capacity audience listened to the former locomotive engineer and the son of the famous Sam P. Jones.

Sunday Sermon Theme

Rev. M. Grant Nelson will preach the morning service at the Atwater Park Baptist church tomorrow morning on the theme "The High Priest of Our Profession." The Baptist Laymen's Movement will have charge of the evening service. Speakers will be S. J. Kent, president of the brotherhood of the Tremont Baptist church, Pasadena, and John V. Russell, state chairman of the Baptist Laymen's Movement. Men of the Atwater district and others are specially invited to attend.

Hard-Times Box Social

Many residents of the Atwater district attended the Community "hard-times" box social held last night at the Atwater school under the auspices of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the association, had charge of the affair. Those attending the party had been requested to come dressed in "hard-times" clothes and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lon Gardner for the women and to Mr. Bennett for the men. Those who did not wear old clothes were fined.

After the awarding of the prizes the winners led in the grand march. Miss Rosalind Gates and Miss Hairsch entertained with vocal solos and old-fashioned games were played. The boxes were auctioned by C. Chapman and Harry Rowry and coffee was served by Mrs. Gillett and Mrs. Tennock. Community singing was led by C. Chapman.

After the refreshments the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Plans are being made for a community party to be held next month, the date having not been announced. Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association, announces that plans are being made for the organization of a Fathers' Auxiliary to the P-T-A. The sum of $30 was realized from the sale of the boxes and this money will be used for association purposes.

VALENTINE PARTY

A surprise Valentine party was given this afternoon for the Crippled Children's home on Bonnie Brae avenue, Los Angeles, by Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Mrs. Bruce E. Lane and Mrs. C. A. Welch.

AT RESEARCH HOSPITAL

Mrs. Helen Prime of 630 North Maryland avenue is a patient at Glendale Research hospital.

AT VERDUGO CITY

VERDUGO CITY, Feb. 14.—Fun reigned supreme last night at the birthday party given at Verdugo city on the occasion of the first anniversary of naming the district. Due to the efforts of the women of Verdugo City a bounteous supper had been provided; also a splendid program. Alma Garvin of Los Angeles, gave a selection of songs interspersed with clever jiggling and a buck and wing dance. Miss Garvin also gave an eccentric comedy number, receiving tremendous applause. Miss Eileen Karr of Verdugo City gave an original old-fashioned dance in hoop skirts of a generation ago.

Harry Fowler, president of the Verdugo City Association of Commerce, gave an interesting talk on the aims of the association and of the people of the district. He particularly stressed the fact that there are no selfish motives behind any actions and that all are working for the best interest of the entire valley. Reviewing the accomplishments of the past year Mr. Fowler said:

"We have ninety signatures to deeds for the widening of Honoring avenue; we have had the completion of the telephone poles on this boulevard reduced three to one; we have conferred with the Pacific Electric Railroad commission and assured an electric line directly through the valley to San Fernando valley; we also are working on a five cent bus service throughout the valley."

"We are working to stop this selfish mutilation of this beautiful valley by self-interested parties who are cutting up property with thirty and forty foot streets; we are going to fight harder than ever this year against such men who defy the county by such actions. Every question that comes up we will fight fairly, and out in the open. We now have our new electric sign. Jennings Young is the man who will look after the sign's time clock and keep it adjusted."

Mr. Fowler then stated the Association of Commerce will reduce the membership fee from $3 a year to $1. Miss Margaret Hauber was voted in as an honorary member.

In a very short time according to Fowler, the new postoffice is to have charge of the rural route distribution for the valley. The telephone, gas and electric companies have been offered a fifty-foot lot each in Verdugo City for $1 per lot and building they put up a brick building. Los Angeles avenue now is paved through to the Glendale city limits and shortly, according to Mr. Fowler, will have sidewalks to this juncture.

Following Mr. Fowler, Miss Margaret Hauber sang, "When Song Is Sweet," "Land of the Sky Blue Water" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." F. C. O'Leary accompanied.

Little Miss Loretta Beam, the first baby born in Verdugo City was introduced by Mr. Fowler. Cards were played. Prizes were awarded the most popular persons in Verdugo City, and a prize went to the "village cut-up." Supper tables were decorated with vases of white and pink carnations. The two birthday cakes held the center. After supper Mrs. Sheridan Young of Marrose sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Star." Favors of small fans and whistles were passed around by Mesdames Fleming, Sechler and Fowler, who were on the reception committee.

Tonight the birthday anniversary celebration will feature a novelty dance when favors of the newest sort will be given everyone arranged for the affair by the Selot band of Glendale. Prizes will be awarded for different contests open to all. Everyone is invited to attend this fiesta dance which will close the first birthday party of Verdugo City.

Mrs. Olmsted Hostess To Alabama Relative

John J. White of Birmingham, Alabama, was a visitor recently at the home of his niece Mrs. H. J. Olmsted, 364 West California avenue. Mr. White is spending the winter with his son, Fred White, in South Pasadena. Other guests at the Olmsted home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Barber of Iowa, sons of H. J. Olmsted. Mr. and Mrs. Barber are touring the west.

Mrs. Lucy Davis of Arlington Heights, Ill., who is wintering in Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dietrick of Pasadena, former residents of Arlington Heights, which was Mr. Olmsted's boyhood home, were also entertained recently at the Olmsted home.

LEGION NOTES

Members of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, were hosts last night to visiting Legionnaires from Monrovia Post No. 44, Monrovia; the Arcadia Post and Monte Vista post, Tujunga, at a meeting held at 435 North Brand boulevard. The occasion was the first visitation meeting held under the new policy adopted by the members of the post for 1925.

Heading the delegation from Monrovia was Commander Mack. Commander Farwell of Arcadia post was in charge of delegation, and Adjutant Hill represented the Tujunga Legionnaires. Short talks were made by the visiting officials.

Arrangements were made for the trip to San Fernando on Tuesday night, when the "wrecking crew" of the local post will be in charge of the initiation for San Fernando post No. 176. David J. Calderon, commander of the San Fernando post, in a letter to Adjutant E. E. McWain, said he had heard much of the ability of the Glendale post's "wrecking crew," and would like to have it take charge. W. H. Regelin will be in charge of the "wrecking crew." Cars carrying Legionnaires to San Fernando will leave the local post headquarters at 7 o'clock next Tuesday night.

George Kaeding was named chairman of the sick and relief committee, and gave a report. Glenn Mapes, chairman of the athletic committee, reported on the victory of the Legion basketball team on Thursday night and announced plans for a tennis tournament. K. F. Butler, director of the drum and bugle corps, reported on the dance given Thursday night by the corps, and announced another dance would be held on February 23.

Next Friday night the local post will have initiation at the Legion headquarters, 610 East Broadway, when a large class will be taken into the order. On February 27 a joint meeting with the auxiliary, composed of members of the newly-formed Tujunga auxiliary as special guests, will be held. On March 13 the entertainment will be boxing bouts, it was announced.

The trophies won by the local post in the Tournament of Roses were displayed. The James A. Drain cup, valued at $350, has been engraved and was shown. The inscription reads: "James A. Drain trophy. Most beautiful and impressive entry in American Legion Division, thirty-sixth annual Tournament of Roses, 1925. Gift of Feagans & Co."

A wicker basket, made by John Pomato, was presented to the post. Letters calling attention to the dinner dance to be held by Verdugo Hills Post, No. 238 on February 18 were distributed.

The entertainment program last night was furnished voluntarily by pupils of the Emerson School of Self-Expression. Mrs. R. W. Cleghorn and Miss Besse Long appeared in a sketch, "Fast Friends." A. C. Comfort, Mrs. H. Hunter, Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy, Miss Besse Long, Mrs. C. Uhlenbrock and G. Edwin Murphy appeared in a playlet, "Frank Glyn's Wife."

Bill Ding

New helper with BENTLEY LUMBER CO., 460 West Los Feliz road.

"I was listening in on the radio one day last night," says Bill Ding, "and a feller says, 'Don't go away, will be with you shortly. Don't go away.' Well, I've been turned that over in my mind considerable, as I've been writing a little article every week for The Glendale Evening News since my arrival in Glendale several weeks ago, and I begin to wonder if a wood-better writer has got to hold his crowd by do'en the same. So don't go away, folks."

"Anyway, I'll bet the feller that was do'en the talking on the radio was a lumberman at some time or tuther, for he's got that 'be with you shortly' stuff down pat. He has been drilled to short length lumber till he jest can't fer get it in his talking. Being as Bill Ding in Glendale has been going on for a long time, in fact, just commenced to get started, that 'shortly' stuff this radio feller was talking about don't fit in with Bill Ding, so I'll inform you, Bill Ding in Glendale is go'en to be here a dog'd long time to come if everybody hooks up with Bill Ding."

Bill Ding is a new arrival in Glendale, who is employed by the Bentley Lumber Co., situated at 460 West Los Feliz road. His picture is just above. Bill is quite a card, but full of good business judgment, and to prove it, you may read his messages in the advertising columns of this paper.

G. C. SHERER TELLS OF REALTY DEAL

Pioneer Resident, In Letter
On School Bonds, Asks
Some Questions

Editor The Evening News.—A brief reply to J. H. Randall. The writer of these anti-school bond articles has been a taxpayer in Glendale for forty years and has supported ten bond issues where Mr. Randall has supported one. He has exercised more discretion in doing so than has Mr. Randall. As for his account with the city of Glendale, he anticipates that there will remain to his credit on the ledger a very considerable balance after he has severed his official connection with the city which he helped in a small way to bring into being. In presenting these articles to the public the writer does not so in the role of an adviser. He willingly yields that part to those who are the leaders of the opposition and contents himself with calling attention to certain facts that bear upon the situation.

The question of "necessity." This is one of the vital points involved, perhaps the first. There has been a great waste of space and money in arguing that the city is growing, the number of children increasing, present school accommodations inadequate, the necessity of spending money. No one has denied these self-evident facts. Why waste time in debating them? The people are ready and willing to vote any "necessities" for schools.

Economy Necessary.—But there are yet left a number of sane citizens who do not believe in wasting money, even for necessities, who believe that the necessities of the school situation can be met by the expenditure of less than half of the sum called for. The situation may be covered by a simile, which is commended especially to the good ladies who are educational enthusiasts to the extent of stopping at no limit of expense. Bread is a necessity, but if to secure it we were required to pay, say, a dollar a loaf, and in addition, buy a bottle of beer, would the result not be a mild protest or an insurrection? What will happen if the bonds are defeated? No, the heavens will not fall. The school authorities will understand the mandate and will call a bond election, with the necessary things set forth in proper segregation on the ballot, and the result will be about unanimous in the affirmative.

Use Common Sense.—In the meantime the exercise of a little business common sense will make the facts conform to the real necessities. The various propositions on the ballot at the election of next Tuesday are not segregated because the ruling powers did not dare trust the people to support their program in its entirety. They depend on the people in the northwest to support the present proposition because they expect the people of Tujunga and vicinity to support it because of the amount of money that section is to receive, and so on, all down the line. If the worthy objects are not supported by reason of the defeat of the proposition, where will the responsibility lie? And it is very apparent that there are a few individuals who are inspired by absolutely selfish motives.

Historic Facts. Space does not permit of elaboration, but to lighten the many people who would not otherwise even imagine the facts, here are a few concise "stories": A few years ago, through the efforts of the California Taxpayers' association, a law was enacted by the Legislature limiting the greatest increase in any one year in taxes levied to 5 per cent, compared with the previous year. This did not meet with the favor of the professional educators of the state and so they availed themselves of the right to submit it direct by a referendum to the people, accompanied by a proposed initiative law framed to suit their ideas of limitless increases in taxes.

Time and Money.—Now, it is a huge task to put through a proposition under the laws of direct legislation, requiring the expenditure of a large sum of money and the securing of a great many thousand signatures throughout the state. But it was not much of a job for the educational combine; they had the money, contributed by the taxpayers, and they had the power of intimidation over an army of teachers. From headquarters in Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles and elsewhere throughout the state, the order went forth all down the line to the teachers in every district, and the writer is able to recall almost exactly the language of the circular order that the teachers received as he read it at that time: "The provisions of the law we wish to have passed are somewhat complicated, so do not attempt to explain it, simply get the signatures of ten or a dozen of your friends." The teachers, it is fair to assume, knew nothing about the law which they were working for, except that they had been led to understand that if it was not passed, their salaries would be reduced. A large number of teachers employed in the Glendale schools at that time could testify to the truth of the above, but, of course, they will not do so; neither would you or I under the circumstances.

Enough to Get Votes.—Here is another. A number of good citizens have expressed themselves as satisfied with the business methods of the school management and a few have even admitted that they are glad to follow the leaders to the end of the road, being satisfied with their business ability (almost their omniscience). Along about 1911 we had another blanket bond proposition put up to the people by the elementary school trustees, who were looking into the future, even as they are now, and recommending a "necessary" program. In this proposition was the purchase of a piece of land in the southeastern part of the city. There was no need or demand for this property for legitimate school purposes, it was bought solely to secure votes in the neighborhood and to placate one man in particular. There was no effort made to give publicity to the desire of the trustees to secure land in that section, because it was evidently not intended to start any competition in offering sites. The result was the purchase of about four acres of land on what is now the north side of Maple street between Fischer and Griswold streets, for $2500 an acre. The property was not reached by any road, had no outlet whatever and was worth about $1500 an acre. This property was held for seven years, making the gross cost (figuring 5 per cent on the bonds) at the end of that period, $3,500.

Questions Business Deal.—Then in 1921 came that movement in the realty market which was the beginning of our era of greatest prosperity, and it might be supposed that the school trustees being business men capable of handling millions, would have taken advantage of the movement and have made some little profit for the district.

The writer is informed on what he believes to be good authority that the price received by the trustees was about $2000. This may not be the correct amount, but in any event the people would be glad to know just what was received for this property and what disposition was made of the money.

And it is not intended by the writer to imply that the money was not applied to school purposes, but there is room for doubt as to whether it was properly credited back to the bond fund. Now this sounds like a good stopping place, but wait. The property was sold to a friend or relative of a member of the school board who only paid 10 per cent of the purchase price, and as the matter was hung up in escrow for five or six months, he disposed of the property at a good profit before the escrow was closed! And the money asked for is $2,400,000! Vote—Vote with care! J. C. SHERER.

TEACHERS STAND BY SCHOOL HEAD

Women's Clubs Also Report
Disapproval of Wood
Being Replaced

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14.—Forecasting a concerted attack on the measure by the teachers' organizations and women's clubs, announcement was made here today by officers of the California Congress of Mothers and the Parent-Teacher associations and the northern section of the California State Teachers' association that both organizations had voted disapproval of the Deuel bill, calling for appointment of a state director of education to replace W. C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, of control of the state teachers' colleges.

Resolutions adopted by the two associations condemned the measure as "a personal attack on Superintendent Wood" and said that it would place schools under political control.

Governor Richardson recently issued a statement urging the public to support the measure when it comes up for consideration at the second session of the Legislature and stating that it was intended to remove schools from political control.
